CSTA Delegates Prepare to Head for Bay Area

There'll be no need for any State student to be lonesome in San Francisco on the week-end of April 8-9, since there will be a large delegation of State's CSTA chapter there for the meeting of the California Junior Council of the California Teachers Asso-

Heywood, Dolores Lavery, Bob Stinson, Chase Edmunds, Arlene Oates, Frankye Riley, Cliff Hulten, Earl Watson, Melissa Funk, Selma Brager, Stella Dunn and Beverly Snow. It is expected that others will join the group.

If one can judge from past meetings, the local delegation, both official and unofficial sections, will be the largest ever to attend such an affair. Since State has the largest chapter in the State, this is as it should be. Only the official delegates will vote; others will join in general discussion and committee work. Travel will be by private auto and delegates will be housed by members of Bay Area chapters.

In the business meeting held last Thursday a proposal to establish a library of information of interest to education students to consist of: salary schedules, administrative policies, and working conditions of various school districts met with immediate approval. It was further suggested that such information as available scholarships will be included. Another proposal was that such textbooks as are hard to obtain through ordinary facilities be made available to members. The committee working on this project consists of Jenny McGowan, Frankye Riley, Stella Dunn, Earl Watson, and Selma Brager. They are anxious to have additional ideas and proposals from

Charged with planning programs for the remainder of the semester and fall semester are Arlene Oates, Frankye Riley, Fern Niven, Naudean Canty.

In the future, general meetings will be held on alternate Wednesdays. Business meetings will be held at 10 a.m. in Ad. 107 and are open to all.

Members are reminded that tomorrow is the last day to get into the CSTA group picture for the Annual. Those that missed the cameraman yesterday will meet tomorrow on the front lawn near the "City College" hedge at 3:15 p.m.

Those heading north are: Dr. Edward Nix, Max Wolf, Harold

ICC Requests Clubs' Report

Ray Garcia, Inter-club-council commissioner, announced that procedure for this group has been slightly altered.

New organizations now go directly to Dr. Penchef for approval. Representatives then should report to the ICC with their charter.

A constitution committee has been set up within the council consisting of Bob Stinson from the CSTA, Ann Yates, Las Damacitas, and Joan Lawless, Alpha Theta Pi representative. These students' immediate task is to get ideas from other colleges and to thrash out basic

There has also been set up a committee for designing and printing of cards for the delegates. Norma Karns from Sigma Alpha Delta and Barkley Hood, Phi Delta were awarded

It is of the utmost importance that all organizations desiring official recognition get the details of acceptance approved.

Delegates of each group consist of the President and one other non-officer representative.

Any group that does not send representatives to the ICC meetings will not be able to schedule events through the official social calendar. The ICC meets on Thursdays at 12 noon in Ad. 225.

Sr. Class Leaders Meet Tomorrow

Senior class officers, committee members, advisor and Dr. Penchef will meet in Ad. 219 tomorrow to make reports on work done for the coming senior activities.

The "Graduation Ball," big event of the semester will be held in the Blossom Room, Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel. The prom committee headed by Arlene Oates made no other comment about the prom except that it will be a colossal affair.

Mr. Olson of the art department is currently working on announcements for graduation as well as bids for the prom.

From all reports gathered by this reporter activities of the senior class seem well under control.

Pitchfork Picture Schedule Told

Final preparations have been made for the snapping of senior and individual club portraits. Each student having his picture taken will be sent a postcard stating the time and place of appointment.

Starting with this issue, the College Times will carry the appointment schedule for the following week. All pictures will be taken on campus by a commercial photographer.

A definite time has been set aside for each student and it is extremely important that all be on time so that the picture schedules will not be mixed up. Students will be excused from classes for the amount of time necessary for the pictures-about 10 to 15 minutes. Each student should show his appointment card to his instructor, and will then be permitted to leave at the proper time, or to enter the class late. If it is absolutely impossible for a student to make his appointed time, then it is requested that he contact or leave a message for Dick Peterson in B-2 as early as possible.

The first pictures to be scheduled are of the senior class, followed by the club portraits. Those students who are both seniors and members of a club choosing portraits will need only one picture taken during the weeks devoted to the seniors.

Don't forget to turn in your interesting snapshots. Within the next three weeks snapshots of you and your friends taken at school, at the mountains, at the beaches or any place else are wanted for a very vital part of the book-the feature section. So get them in soon. And you married fellows - don't forget your wives.

The following is the schedule of senior's portraits to be taken starting on Tuesday, ,March 29, and including Friday, April 1. The room where the pictures will be taken is AD 213.

Noted P.E. Leader Speaks to CAHPER

Walter Scott, head of physical education, health, and recreation in Long Beach, talked to members of CAHPER at a luncheon meeting last Monday.

He talked of the unique situation that prevails at Long Beach, being that he is in charge of school recreation as well as many other activities. There were twenty-three people at the meeting who heard Mr. Scott talk.

The CAHPER plan to have their next meeting Monday, March 28, at which time they will have another speaker from one of the three fields.

Under a new plan, initiated to better serve State students both financially as well as socially, all clubs on campus are selling bids. If a club is responsible for the sale of 25 or more bids, its treasury will get a ten per cent rake-off on all sold. Ît is hoped this idea will help encourage more students to enjoy school activities. There's no reason why we shouldn't all take

CAHPER Holds Picnic Sunday

CAHPER and the Sports and Recreation club will jointly sponsor a picnic this Sunday at Griffith Park. The festivities will begin at 1 p.m. and last throughout the afternoon.

There will be bidding on the girls' lunches and the absolute top will be twenty-five cents. Everyone should be able to afford this.

Volleyball, softball, and relay races will be run off throughout the afternoon.

Punch is provided for the group by both clubs. Wayne Scott has promised to mix his own concoction, consequently the alcohol content will be nil?

Many prizes are awarded for the winners of the races and ball games.

All are invited; bring your mother, grandmother, sister, aunt or wife and kids-but YOU make certain you're there.

CCUN Seeks Cooperation

Collegiate Council for the United Nations on campus is a group of college students determined in building the future of the United States, United Nations and the world.

The CCUN urges college students to stimulate better understanding of the purpose, scope and functions of the United Nations organization and to organize a United Nations Council here to act as the UN information center.

It is heartening to see the substantial increase in the number of active participants in student government. What the reasons are for this increase I don't know. Perhaps it is the organization of the cabinet. Many commissioners have taken over their full share of responsibility, thus increasing the number of proselyters.

Another reason, undoubtedly, is the clubs which have been formed. Many of these groups have taken to the school as one of their aims. (By the way, I was surprised and pleased to learn that nearly twenty groups have applied for charters through Ray Garcia, commissioner of clubs.)

Service and fraternal societies have a great potential for good. However, it often happens that members put the interest of the group before the interests of the student body. Each club becomes a cell interested only in itself. The "shmooes" are not allowed to speak to the "gooks", and so on.

A condition of this sort is the most unfortunate thing which can happen to a school. Let's guard against such a thing happening at State. Let each club dedicate itself first to the common welfare. Cooperate and service are the keynotes of success. Let's make State successful.

College Times has been guilty of a gross omission. Our coverage of Executive Council, Cabinet and Inter-Club Council meetings has been very poor. I had originally intended to use this column to analize and criticize the actions of these groups. Unfortunately I have been able to attend only a few meetings. Because Larry Bordan, news editor, and Erwin Flacks, feature editor and columnist, are both members of the Executive Council, we felt that it would be unethical to allow them to report or criticize the meetings. Other staff members have been too busy to take on extra duties. However, it should not be long before news from these sources appears as a regular feature.

It's bird time, bee time, and especially beach time! !! Sp.e.r.r.ing is here! And if the world is not yet your oyster, the floor can be your ashtray.

Pity the poor annual staff. They're working doubletime, tripletime, and nightime.

Sports and Rec are in the same bracket . . . working the stuff overtime. Especially Harley Lyon. The ad lad had to tie his dates shoe strings to best her at S. & R's bowling nite Thursday last State's casaba boys are still at it, unofficially that is. They're pushing the melon in the Citizen News-Hollywood Y tournament.

Jr. class prexy, Don McLaren, slapping paint to publicize the Spring Swing, Junior prom, Saturday, April 2.

Conley McLaughlin and Willis Simms are finally at it too. He's working on an all State students art exhibit.

Al Hull and his missus are still sweatin'. Their house will be ready any day now, they hope.

Bob Stinson working up benefits for CSTA, while better half, Jean, is teaching, near enough but not quite, at the beach.

J. T. Cardinal, Joe Mayfield, Bernice Starr, June Phillips, Marilyn Miss and others spending mornings and noon suntime doing directed teaching at Lockwood, while the Schumacher twins and chum Betty Johnson practice at Marshall H. S.

Ed Abramson goes home to slave over a hot stove, and Fred Sutton sits and sympathizes. Lew Kennedy beating daylights out of the drums.

Me? I'm going to the beach. Is there anyone who'll join me?'?

Business Office is Diablo Pulse

Fiscal operation of State, as it courses through the business office or El Diablo's vein, is the pulse beat of the school.

Purchase of equipment, establishment of the budget, general supervision of all purchases, handling of personnel problems, or in general, just where the moola goes, is the function of this office.

Without this pulse thumper, State could not be.

Mr. George H. Hackney, Accounting officer, heads this office. A graduate of the University of Idaho, with some time at USC, Hackney also sits in as business adviser to the student executive council.

Sitting in as chief assistants to Hackney are Marie Lemley, Angelina Devich and Donald Becker

Miss Lemley, State's chief bookkeeper, is a graduate of the U. of Nebraska and USC.

Angelina, a grad of Sawyers Business College, after attendance at the U. of Washington, handles State College cash. Mr. Becker supervises the acquisition of equipment, keeps property records and marks and identifies stock.

Ross Burdick

Words About Music: Sarah Vaughn opens at Ciro's April 22! There's also a good possibility that she might appear in concert around that time, but there's nothing definite on it as yet . . .

Louis Armstrong, 'ol Satchmo himself, opens at the Hollywood Empire March 24. Featured with him are the All-Stars including Jack Teagarden and Big Sid Catlett. Following Armstrong is the group everyone is waiting to hear, Charlie Ventura and his orchestra, featuring Jackie Cain and Roy Kral on those great bop vocals. Incidentally, did you know that the Empire has a spectator section for those of you who just like to listen???

Woody Herman has been booked down at Balboa for four weekends beginning July 1. At that time he'll be without the services of drummer Don Lamond and tenorman Zoot Simms

That "Hint To The Wise Dept." in this column a few weeks past still goes, only its now "Spring Swing" instead of "Jazz Band Ball!" The theme being what it may, it's really going to be a great dance!

Sebby & Goddard

"ALL MY SONS" expertly directed by Don Antaky is now playing in our College Theatre. Done with impressionistic lighting this moving drama of lust and power is performed with realism by some of the most talented and experienced actors of our drama department: Vic Izay, Beverly Heilig and Bob Scott. We earnestly urge everyone to see this sincere production.

No Strings Attached to Puppet Class

What started as a new hobby for Miss Eula O. Jack, has developed into a new Speech course now offered at State.

The study of creative dramatics, including production of puppet plays (with students making their own puppets), shadow plays, and choric speaking, are offered in Speech 101, MWF at 2 p.m. in B32.

This is the first class of its type introduced at State. Curricula of this type is extremely functional and an excellent medium for students who are planning to enter kindergarten, primary or elementary teaching, playground supervision, boy or girl scouts, or other types of recreational fields.

Miss Jack plans instruction in building a portable stage, constructing puppets and cut-out shadow characters of all varieties, including spool, rag doll, papier mache' and plastic wood.

Each activity is designed to meet specific units of work, such as Mexico, transportation or communications.

Mr. Olsen, head of the arts and crafts department, has loaned materials to the class and has permitted art students to assist in the puppet stage construction.

"Work of this sort," stated Miss Jack, "is wholly creative and offers wide lattitude and flexibility. It can be adopted to any age group, and since the plays are not memorized, they are always fresh and interesting. All State students may attend," she concluded. "PEKING MAN," which had its on campus western world premiere April 26 will be authentic. The faculty director, Jerry Blunt, is an authority on the customs and traditions of China as well as one of the most capable stage directors in the United States.

LUNTS and company are due at the Biltmore March 28 in S. N. Behrman's "I Know My Love." May we suggest that if you've not seen the celebrated couple in comedic or dramatic action, don't miss this chance. They always project their heart-warming personalities with care and polish.

HELEN WESTCOTT, former campus thespian visited here last week and informed us that she has been married since we've seen her last. After making a series of films for Warner Brothers, she is now under contract to Twentieth Century-Fox.

"IS LIFE WORTH LIV-ING?" is the title of a witty Irish play first produced by the Dublin Abbey Players and now playing week-ends at the New Studio Theatre. The best performance is turned in by James Rawley.

Order of Satan Chooses White

White sweaters with gold stripes trimmed in black, and black letters on a gold background will soon catch the eye of everyone on campus. This was the color scheme chosen by The Order of Satan lettermen at a meeting last Friday. The men will pay for their sweaters now and are planning a variety show to raise funds to reimburse them later.

Officers elected at the meeting were president, Wayne Scott; vice-president, Chase Edmunds; secretary, Bob Dittmar; treasurer, Jim Hanley; sergeant-at-arms, Fred Sutton and ICC representative, Duff Means. Mr. Hansen is sponsor for the organization.

Pledge Duties For Phi Deltas Begin

If you see a few State-men going through some strange and perhaps undignified antics, don't worry, they are probably Phi Delta pledges. Bill Barty, Don McLaren, Ross Burdick, Lloyd Hutton, Bernie Daney Woody Lilly, and Ted Kovachs will be prodded through their paces by Pledgemaster Fred Sutton

At a meeting Monday night with the officers, the pledges were told what is expected of them for the rest of the semester.

Phi Delta now has a place for official announcements. It is on the large bulletin board outside Ad. 219.

Events for April Outlined by SAM

Society for the Advancement of Management announces its April schedule. All business students and faculty are invited and urged to attend these functions. In addition to the following, further details will be posted outside of Ad. 219.

April 1: Movie of the Week, 12 p.m., Life Science 201.

April 4: Field trip to South Gate General Motors Plant, 2 p.m.

April 8: Movie of the Week, 12 p.m., Life Science 201. "Packaging, the Bounty of America."

Alph Theta Pi Pledges Greeted

Alpha Theta Pi recently held a meeting with its new pledges for the spring semester. A candlelight pledge ceremony was presided over by Virginia Hronis, president of the social sorority.

After the ceremony, pledges were informed of the significance and duties of the organization. Pledges can be recognized on campus by the red and white ribbons bearing the Greek letters of the sorority. Pledgeship will be extended throughout the month of March and will culminate in a formal initiation.

Shoes have new ideas this Spring. Navy as always draws many recruits, especially for those after-five dressy occasions. Highlighting the shoe fashions, however, come the new blond and tawny shades.

The opera pump with deep diamond cut vamp will rate high with the well dressed coed. Latest note in cut is the new square toe. Heels are soaring and have a Louis lilt. Lattice-work adorns the scooped out front, while straps add interest at the instep.

Calfskin is leading the field, but there is news in ostrich skin and in the handsome alliance of fabric with leather to be seen in new handbags as well.

Polka dots are all over the place, and shoes and purses are looking to them for unique smartness.

Gloves news is in the toast shades ranging from melba to burnt, being the same, of course, as new shoe tones.

Daytime gloves will be very short with finely stitched fingers giving a long tapering appearance to the fingers. French accented gloves add the new angular look to the pencil line silhouette.

After-five sees the long glove taking the scene. Some rise just a fraction short of the elbow while others pass it from one to two inches. The shorties is also a leader for P. M. wear, taking pastel hues as delicate as the early Spring flowers.

EXA to Choose Special Frat Pin

Sigma Chi Alpha's seventy members met Monday, March 14, and chose a committee to create a unique design for the club pin. Information will soon be available as to the price and appearance of the new fraternal identification.

Douglas Trestrail was appointed as representative to attend Inter-Club Council meetings with Claude Butterfield, vice-president of the organization

Honor Society

Plans for organizing a chapter of Omega Alpha Delta will be made at a tea held Friday, March 26, from 4-5:30 p.m. at the home of Helen Fox.

Women Plan YWCA Group

AWS is making plans for establishing a YWCA chapter on the State campus. Special arrangements are being made with the secretary of the national committee for organization of the group.

This chapter will offer opportunities for various phases of community service as well as many religious and social functions. It's an excellent way to become acquainted, and all girls are urged to join.

Look for further announcements concerning organization in the Times.

A triangular meet between Cal Tech, Loyola and State is scheduled for the track team on April 9 at Cal Tech's oval. This will give Coach Campbell a good opportunity to look over his material before deciding who will journey to Santa Barbara in the annual relays.

The Sports and Recreation in cooperation with Cahper will sponsor a picnic this Sunday at Griffith Park. All students and their friends are invited.

we'll let you raffle it off. It's a money making proposition. But the most you can get touched for is two-bits.

CAPHER is having their annual convention in San Francisco next month. Dee Van Nest, president of State's chapter will represent the local club, at the assembly. Several other members will make the trip. Van's way will be paid by the club—the others plan on making their expenses off the nags at Golden Gate Fields.

The lettermen will purchase their sweaters this week and will blossom forth within the next few weeks. The sweaters are white and will have a black and gold stripe.

Thinclads Meet Cal Tech and Loyola Saturday April 19

Coach Harry Campbell will take his Black and Gold tracksters over to the Caltech oval out Pasadena way on Saturday afternoon April 9 to engage the Engineers and the Loyola Lions in a triangular meet. The time of the meet is 2 p.m. and admission is free.

As yet the State squad has been untested with only dash man Tom Williams running in the Long Beach Relays. The Caltech spikesters finished second to Occidental in the Southern California College Relays recently, while Loyola was swamped by the Compton College Tartars 107 to 21 last week.

Coach Campbell will probably enter Tom Williams, basketballer Ed Sparrow, and Don Pimentall in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. If Williams is on he could very well chalk up 10 points for State. Harry Clover has been working nicely in the 440, and Bert Morton might also run this event.
