

McDonald reveals building plans for "higher education"

Slates 6 story buildings to dot local grounds

A verbal picture of a campus with buildings six stories high was painted by Dr. Howard S. McDonald, president of Los Angeles State and City Colleges at a recent press conference.

Dr. McDonald revealed that a closed door conference started Thursday & ending Friday was discussing the proposed new buildings. Apparently, according to Dr. McDonald, the building plans are in advanced stage of development. They won't all be started at once though.

"We cannot carry out the entire building in a short period of time," stated McDonald, "the tearing down of our present buildings would leave the colleges without classrooms. Instead we proposed to build a six story structure in the front of the administration building first plus a new library to the rear of the Ad. building."

The tennis courts would have to be torn up a little later to make room for one of the new giant educational structures, he explained. As the buildings were completed the temporary bungalows could be done away with. The North Hall is also to be razed.

"A new campus will arise here," said Dr. McDonald, "you will be able to see straight through from Vermont Avenue to Heliotrope Drive. The architects have made the campus appear really beautiful."

Explains activities to new arrivals

Students new to State College this semester were excused from 11 a.m. classes Wednesday in order that they might attend the Orientation Day ceremonies.

Dr. Morton J. Renshaw, dean of student personnel introduced Robert J. Williams, registrar, Marty Halperin, associated students vice-president, talked about sports activities on campus. Senior Class President Wayne Stoops spoke on student government. Nancy Baum and Ken Westfall presented club activities and opportunities and Dick Bell talked about campus publications.

The day's events were sponsored by Blue Key. Blue Key President Frank Seltzer stated "The committee thanks everyone connected with the orientation proceedings."

Curriculum head inspects local journalism facilities

Paul V. Sheehan, head of Division of Journalism at Fresno State College, inspected the Journalism facilities at L. A. State and City Colleges last Thursday.

Dr. Sheehan heads the curriculum committee of all the State Colleges in California and will coordinate journalism offerings in all ten State schools.

Viennese Ballet ensemble recreates 1900 Vienna through dance medium

Stresses music of Bach, other old masters

Gay and sparkling as a Strauss waltz, S. Hurok's delightful Ensemble will be presented in a concert by the combined music departments of the Los Angeles City and State Colleges, in association with Irwin Parnes.

The Viennese Ensemble Ballet comes to the campus on Wednesday, February 14 at 8:15 in the City College Auditorium. Vienna as it was at the turn of the century will be recreated by this exceptional dance group.

Choreographer Grete Wiesenthal, famed dance director of the Salzburg Festival and the Vienna State Opera, has chosen Bach's Fugue No. 5, Franz Schubert's "Death and the Maiden," Anton Dvorak's "Village Comedy," and a patriotic hymn by Chopin.

In lighter vein, the Ensemble will dance "The Vintage Festival," by Salmhofer, "The Lively Dance Master," capturing the spirit and grace of a bygone Vienna, and four short tales of young love, set to Strauss waltzes.

Acclaimed throughout Europe as the "best Viennese ballet," the Ensemble features leading dancers from Vienna Opera House and the Vienna Academy of Music. The troupe is now on its second American tour, following a triumph in South America.

Student rates on tickets are 60 and 90 cents. General public admission is $1.20 and $1.80. Tickets may be purchased at the City College window. Telephone reservations will be accepted at NOrmandy 3-3201.

Newman arranges first spring dance

The first dance that the Newman Club will hold this semester will be held on St. Patrick's day, Saturday, March 17. A dance was originally scheduled earlier but was cancelled due to the fact that it would have taken place during Lent.

The Newman Club, Catholic student's club announced that their meeting time has been changed to Thursday at 11. Every week the meeting will be held at that time. Newman Hall is the meeting place.

In addition to the business meeting, every Tuesday at 11, there will be a discussion of Catholic principles. The Chaplain will preside. Non-Catholics are invited to attend.

Officers for this semester are John Taxcher, president; James McCormick, vice president; Jerome Williams, secretary; Gerald Dougieux, treasurer; James Hill, historian. Publicity chairman is Florence McCarthy.

Blue Key elects officers

Blue Key elected officers for the new semester. They are Frank Seltzer, president; Bob Miner, vice-president; Bill Lertz, secretary-treasurer; Bob Schiebel, recording secretary; Paul Rusnik, historian; Ernest Leal, alumni secretary.

Leaders confer on mobilization problems

Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, dean of men; George William Willott, associate professor of physical education, and a student, Dee R. Van Nost, all of Los Angeles State College will serve as chairmen of vital conference special sessions on "Employee Recreation in the National Emergency," "Problems of Recreation Educators in Developing Undergraduate and Graduate Curriculum and Standings" and "Students View Recreation" respectively at the Third Annual California Recreation Conference in San Diego, February 13-16.

Nationally-famous recreation leaders, educators, and workers from related welfare work will be present at the large confab in Balboa Park where particular stress will be put on problems arising out of national mobilization.

Society requests bright students

The Scholarship Society of Los Angeles State College, open to all State College students, is looking for new members. If you carried a minimum of 12 units last semester and came out with a 2.0 or better grade point average, you are eligible.

If you believe you meet requirements, sign the list posted in Bungalow G. The College Times will publish further information as it becomes available.

Registration dates for Teacher Placement Bureau Credential instruction about applications for placement have been set, states Elaine Fritz, in charge of teacher placement.
The elementary meeting is slated today at 4 p.m. in Chem. 3 and secondary meeting will be held Wed., Feb. 14 in Ad. 223.

Dr. Steiner lectures on U. S. far eastern policy

Educator travels extensively in Communist China, tells facts

Discussing America's Far Eastern policy in the current world crisis, will be Dr. H. Arthur Steiner, nationally recognized authority on the Far East, at 12 noon in Ad. 223 Wednesday.

Dr. Steiner, who recently visited China, will analyze the problems and issues facing the American people in that section of the world. He traveled extensively through Communist China and had opportunity to study conditions as they existed under the Mao-Tse-Tung regime.

An expert on America's foreign relations and a Fulbright scholar, Dr. Steiner has taught at U.C.L.A. since 1931. He has travelled widely in Europe, Africa, and Asia, and has written several books based on extensive studies and his observations.

Among his more well-known publications are "Government of Fascist Italy" and "Principles and Problems of International Relations." His articles appear frequently in professional journals.

Dr. Steiner's lecture inaugurates the Spring Foreign Policy Lecture series under the joint sponsorship of Pi Gamma, State College social science honorary fraternity and the Social Science division of State College. It is open to students of both State and City Colleges and to the general public.

The Viennese Ballet Ensemble

Sunasky offers parts for play

Attention all you would-be actors. Readings for parts in Oscar Wilde's "Salome" will begin on Friday night, February 16, at 8:00 p.m. in Bungalow Z-2.

Irv Sunasky, director, said, "We want to stress the fact that this is to a co-operative project. We need people from all the various departments at State College."

The production will be staged in the main auditorium in May.

Instructors, who wish to dismiss their classes in order that their students may attend, are requested to make an announcement to this effect before Wednesday.

Library extends loan time

Effective as of now the loan time for regular books, both adult and juvenile, has been extended from seven to fourteen days.

Reserve books checked out for overnight use after 2 p.m. must be returned by 9 a.m. the following morning. Any books returned after that time are overdue.

COLLEGE TIMES NEEDS REPORTERS

This publication, the College Times, was organized by State College students, for State College students. It is not the official organ of State College as such, but the organ of the students of this college.

Associated Student Body funds support the College Times, without those funds the Times could not exist. But also, without the active support of the students this paper would fold. Like any other paper it must have reporters and staff members. The paper does not have enough of either.

The staff would like to give the students of this college the best paper they can possibly have, news about other students and news about themselves. To help us toward this goal requires but a few hours each week by many persons—by persons who can sign up for small news sources and cover those sources each week. Typewriters are available in the College Times office for typing the stories you receive. Don't hesitate to call on any member of our staff for help.

We have a special need at the moment for sports writers and feature writers. The many sports in the spring semester, swimming, wrestling, gymnastics, golf, track, baseball, tennis and spring football, call for a large array of reporters. Come in and sign up.

As far as policy goes the Times will keep its columns free of any political bias, will not use its columns to further any subversive or partisan cause, but will attempt to truly represent and protect the interests of the students of this Los Angeles State College.

If any student should find something to criticize in the columns of the paper don't hesitate to voice an opinion. It will be respected.

PARKING STILL PROBLEM

Last semester Los Angeles State and City College acquired several lots from the Braille Institute to meet the need of the parking problem of such a large campus as ours.

They have now been in operation for several months, but it seems that another problem has arisen. Those people who arrive early enough to secure a legitimate parking space in those lots are penalized for it by the late comers who pile their cars in the lots bumper to bumper so that in a very short time the exits and entrances are completely blocked.

This is not just carelessness but shows a lack of respect for the rights of others. Once the cars are blocked off they are blocked at least until 1 or 2 p.m. Many of the early parkers have jobs or places to go during the day and find that they are kept from leaving by an immovable tangle of cars blocking the exits.

The habit should be stopped voluntarily or if it isn't some method of enforcing decent parking habits should be devised.

TEACHERS OFFERED OVERSEAS SERVICE

The Department of the Army again must recruit teachers to staff the schools operated in the European and Far East Commands for the children of military and civilian Federal personnel stationed in those areas.

The purpose of the dependent school program is to provide educational opportunities through the high school level comparable to the best educational systems in the United States. There are over 20,000 American boys and girls in these foreign areas and every effort is made to operate a modern school system with the ablest teachers who can be obtained in the United States.

There are over 500 positions to be filled for the school year, 1951-52. The greatest need in both commands is for elementary teachers who are experienced in teaching several grades. In accordance with the minimum standards established by the Department of the Army, teachers must meet the following requirements:

1. A.B. or B.S. degree or equivalent
2. 18 hours credit in education
3. Recent public school teaching experience: (2 years is the minimum acceptable; 5 or more are preferred.)
4. Valid teaching credential
5. Between ages of 25-55 (men)
Between ages of 25-45 (women)

All candidates must be currently teaching or not have been out of the teaching profession for more than a year.

The rating (federal) is GS-7, carrying a salary of $3825.00 Transportation and quarters are provided. Dependents may follow to Europe but not to the Far East.

For information regarding the dates and locations of interviews in the Los Angeles Area contact the Teacher Placement Bureau, Ad. 224, as soon as possible, stated Elaine V. Fritz, teacher placement bureau head.

Youth hostels plan cycle tours in America; abroad

Opportunities for cycling will be discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Los Angeles Council of the American Youth Hostels on Monday February 12. The meeting will be held at the Queen Anne Playground, 1250 West Boulevard from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The meeting is open to all those interested in cycling trips in the Americas and overseas according to Peter Karis, council president.

Women plan tea

There will be a tea for all State College women on February 15 from 3:30 to 5:00 in the Student Union, stated Irma Tadini, AWS president. Women interested in social sororities and service organizations may obtain information at the tea.

Refreshments will be served and entertainment will be featured.

Alexander Reviews

The new Harout's Ivar Theatre had a near capacity crowd for the second night of Rudolph Besier's "The BARRETT'S of WIMPOLE STREET," a play about a love between two poets with a father barrier. Susan Peters, with a charming slur, played Elizabeth Moulton-Barrett, bedridden invalid tortured by the heavy weight of a jealous and overcharming Victorian father. Philip Reed was Robert Browning, the masterful liberator. John Hoyt was the warped father, and Jeff Donnell was Henreitta, Elizabeth's sister.

The acting was capably handled, especially by Susan Peters, who played sincerely, if not penetratingly. The humor was left to the subordinates. The play had been cut from its original five acts to an advantageous three, sparing the audience of much of its wordiness. It did have an effective ending.

I might have considered the play with more enthusiasm had I not been burdened with the thought of the Brownings and their sensitive, devotional poetry; but the two don't blend; one walks, the other flies.

Beginning tonight at the Coronet Theatre, 366 N. La Cienega for four evenings will be shown some of the most UNUSUAL films ever made. "Un Chien Andalou," (An Andalusian Dog) written, produced and directed by Luis Bunuel and Salvador Dali. This film is a fierce cinematic weapon conceived to rip the eyes of pretentious intellectual snobs in Paris in 1929 when the abstract of abstract art was finding conspicuous sight. (That was the year multimillionaires were sitting complacently in their soft chairs awaiting the burning match to reach the shoe. There might have been an implication.)

Its premiere with an audience of conditioned nonconformists created a near-riot. This is the most famous of all "pure" surrealist films. It is magnificently disturbing; it will estrange you from yourself into a world of bewilderment and amazement.

Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, "Who so would be a man must be a nonconformist." Time marches on! There are three other films that will drain your remaining energy. I'm sorry not to have the space to go into them.

A little late in mentioning it, but "The Blue Angel" is in its last week at the Esquire. It is a film adaptation of Heinrich Mann's novel (older brother of Thomas), an exposure of high school life in imperial Germany. Emil Jannings plays Professor Unrat with intensity enough to move an ice cube into a fire. Forget about the age of the film, you won't notice it.

The Music Hall in Hollywood is currently showing two re-releases, Charles Dickens' "Mr. Pip," and Nathaniel Hawthorne's "The House of the Seven Gables"

Rho Delta Chi rushes

Dancers perform new tragic ballet

Harry Hale

And again

There is a brand new daughter in the Harry Hale household! A girl was born to Mrs. Hale at 1:43 a.m. Monday. The baby weighs six pounds 15 ounces and is eighteen inches long.

She is the third child in the Hale family. They now have two girls and one boy. The other girl's name is Vicki Lee and she is the oldest. The boy, Michael Bruce, is nicknamed Skeeter.

"They sure come in handy for my practice teaching," stated the exuberant father. "When I want the answer to a question, I just ask myself, what would Vicki do?" He also congratulated himself that he will be only 40 years old when Vicki Lee is twenty.

Colleges form placement pact

Three members of the L. A. State College staff were among the university and college representatives of five Pacific Coast states and the officials of key industries over the U. S. to discuss personnel relations at the inaugural conference of the Pacific College Placement and Recruitment Office Association.

The conference was held at the Ambassador Hotel.

The State representatives are Miss Alice B. Larson, placement coordinator, Mr. Homer Fetty, director of the bureau of occupations, and Dr. Harold T. Diehl, professor of sociology.

Music groups need singers, musicians

Lauris Jones, conductor of the Combined State-City College Orchestra, announced that there are openings for five or six violas in the orchestra. Plans are under way for concerts to be given on May 1 and 2.

The A Cappella Choir is larger than last year, according to Francis Baxter, director. "A few good male voices would be all we need," said Mr. Baxter.

Here are two good opportunities for you who enjoy participating in musical organizations. The orchestra meets from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the Music Hall. The A Cappella meets at noon on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Galpren directs only small U. S. ballet troupe

The Coronet Ballet Company presented an excellent program in the Auditorium January 26. The audience was very appreciative of the offerings of the group. Director and choreographer was Lasar Galpren.

The Coronet Ballet Company is a stock company founded by Lasar Galpren five years ago, and directed by him. It is the only small professional company in the U.S., and is beginning its second professional season.

In their performance here, the dancers presented four complete ballets, including: "La Grand Valse", with music by Ravel; "Comedie da Amour," with music by Scarlottie; a new tragic ballet, with music by Scriabin, which has been compared to the recent presentations of the Paris Ballet; & "The Guard at Home", a gay nineties burlesque, with music by Satie.

The accompanist is Max Arbinovsch. Some of the leading dancers are Barbara Bailey, Mary Menzies, Joan Collonette, daughter of Pavlova's; Barbara Stewart, John Stanley, Eric Freeman, and Allan Stewart.

This was another of the very fine programs put on by the combined music departments of State and City Colleges. It is urged that you attend their next presentation, The Viennese Ballet Ensemble, which will be here tomorrow in the Auditorium at 8:15.

State students to compete with USC, UCLA in Contract bridge club

Los Angeles State College, with the cooperation of its students, will soon compete with UCLA and USC in national college bridge events. A club is being organized on campus for students who wish to learn or to play contract duplicate bridge.

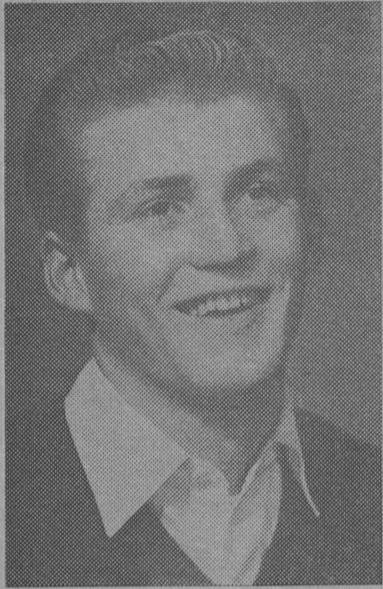

The organization meeting will be Thursday, Feb. 15 in B-119 at 12:10 m. Those attending are requested to bring a deck of cards, any bridge books they may have, and note paper, as well as questions they may wish to ask.

One of the aims of the Duplicate Bridge Club will be the placing of card tables in the Student Union for the use of those who enjoy playing bridge, hearts, and other card games.

Hunt & Fish club schedule speaker, movie, outings

The second meeting of the Fishing and Hunting Club will be held in the Student Union Lounge, Monday, February 19 at 7:30 p.m. An interesting program is planned for your enjoyment. We will have a speaker and a movie that will be of interest to the sportsman.

Tentative trips to the Colorado River, local lakes, and deep sea fishing will be discussed. Plan to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Art Fabian

Ophelia Askin

Stresses athletics

And in this corner, Art Fabian, men's representative for this semester.

In a statement on policy, Fabian said, "By having smokers and informals the men from all departments can meet on common ground. I would personally like to see more recognition given to State College athletes."

He added "If there are any suggestions, questions or gripes from any of the men on campus, I want them brought to my attention."

Fabian, president of the Senior Class last semester, is twenty one, married, and plans to graduate in June. He is a transfer from the University of Minnesota and is majoring in marketing.

Palmer, Duff nuptials

Miss Nancy Palmer became Mrs. Duff Means in a December wedding. Both are former students of State College. Nancy, active in students affairs while on campus and past president of Alpha Theta Pi, is now teaching, while Duff is on the UCLA campus taking his Master's degree. Duff was a Kappa Pi Sigma and a letterman in basketball, baseball, and track when he attended State College.

Queen for a day

Ophelia Askin, State College student, won the "Queen for a Day" program on December 20, 1950 over radio station KHJ. The many prizes she won include Panelray (Furnace) Heater, Wasteking Pulverator (garbage disposal) Speed Queen washing machine, Amana Food Freezer, and a Schwinn bicycle.

In addition, Mrs. Askins was taken on a tour through the Warner Brothers Motion Picture Studio and received hair styling by Westmore.

Mrs. Askins has been married for ten years and has three children. She is an Elementary Education major. Last semester was spent in practice teaching at Lockwood. She plans to graduate in June.

Business meeting planned

The Society for the Advancement of Management, organization for business students, will start the new semesters activities with a business meeting February 14 at noon, in Bungalow 103.

SAM urges all business students who are interested in the organization to attend this meeting, when plans for the forthcoming semester will be discussed.

Pre-teaching candidates to meet

A meeting of all secondary students who contemplate doing their directed teaching in September, 1951, or February, 1952, will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. in Ad 223.

The purpose of this meeting is to acquaint students with coming requirements, and to check each persons record to date, according to Dr. Joseph Stanley, director of secondary student teaching.

Graduate students taking directed teaching may take 10 units and receive the total benefits of the G.I. bill. All undergraduates however must take 12 units to receive the same benefits, emphasized Dr. Stanley.

C.S.T.A. plans tea, talks

All Education majors interested in joining C.S.T.A. should attend the tea to be given Monday, February 19 from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Student Union.

Talks by Dr. Delmar T. Oviatt and Dr. Joseph W. Stanley on information pertinent to credentials will be featured.

Refreshments will be served.

Many other activities have been planned for the semester.

Phrateres initiate pledges

Phrateres, women's organization, initiated 14 new members recently in a candle-light ceremony, after which installation of officers was held. Betty Dyche, outgoing president, conducted the ceremonies.

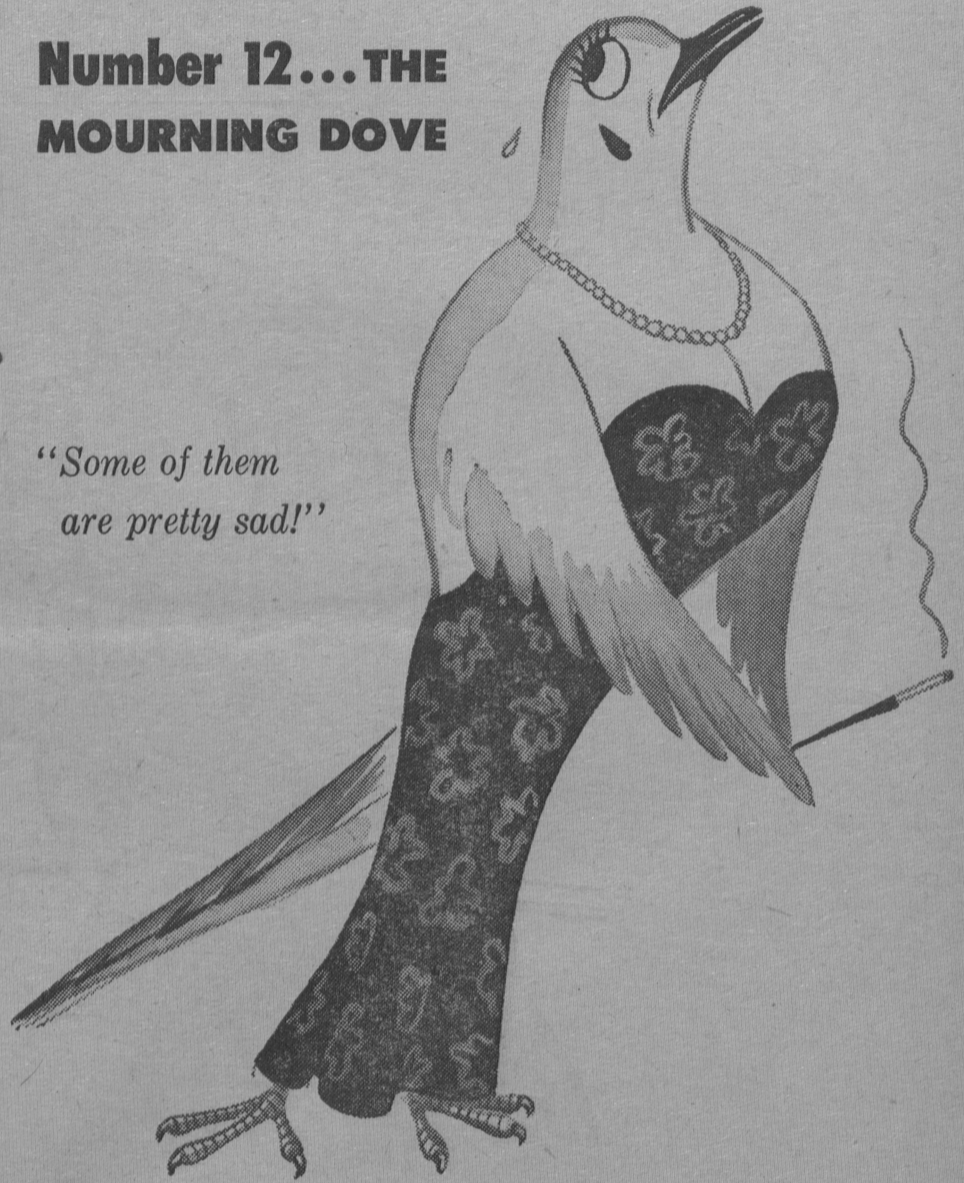

Dean Helen Laughlin, founder of the group, spoke. "Famous for Friendliness", motto of Phrateres, and methods of bringing its true meaning were discussed. Others attending were Dr. Rita Hanson, and Dean Esther Pencheff.

Anne Kaouris will act as president this semester, and Alice Arms as vice president.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 12...THE MOURNING DOVE

"Some of them are pretty sad!"

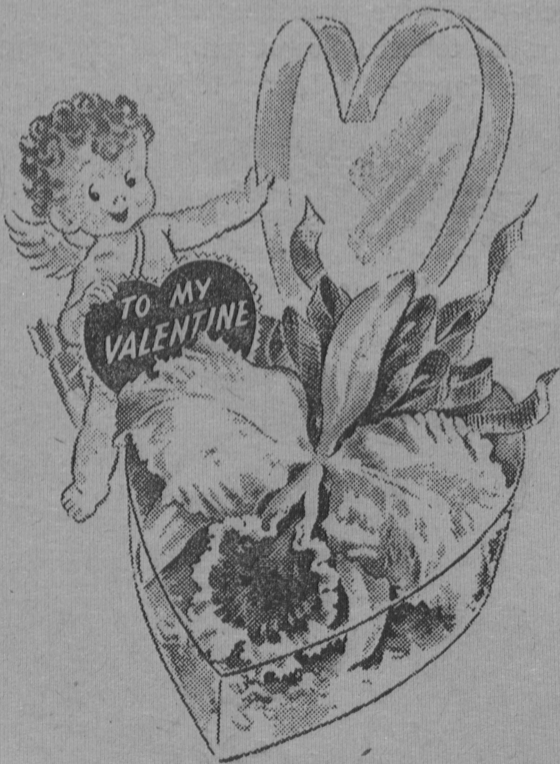

Melancholy and dejected, this gloomy miss found little to titillate her in the recent deluge of quick-trick cigarette tests! She was not enthralled by the idea of judging cigarette mildness with just a fast puff or a single sniff. But, joy of joys! . . . happiness came to her when she discovered one test that left no doubt in her mind.

It was the sensible test! . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) we believe you'll know why . . .

Campbell works 20 top hopefuls for L. B. relays

Diablos possess sprint strength, 440 prospects

Six lettermen and several City College transfers stood out among turnouts for State College's 1951 track team which started workouts this week.

Coach Harry Campbell plans to work his 20 prospects into top condition before he starts pushing them for time. First competition for the Diablos is in the Long Beach Relays, slated for Saturday March 10.

Returning lettermen included Tom Williams, sprints, Cliff Davis, weights, Bob O'Rourke and Al Reiff, quarter mile, Jack Swinburn, hurdles, and Tom Behr, distances.

Williams holds the State record for the 100 and 220 with times of 9.8s and 21.2s. He also has the best broad jump, a leap of 22 feet 3 inches. Davis likewise possesses three records, a 46 foot shot put, a 145 foot 4 1/2 inch discus toss, and a 158 foot 9 1/2 inch javelin throw.

Another record holder is O'Rourke, who has breezed the 440 in 49.8s. O'Rourke should receive plenty of competition from LACC transfer Ed Washington who holds the Cub record of 49.0s set in the preliminaries of last year's National Junior College meet.

Campbell should have a powerful one-two punch in the sprints with Fred Sims, City College 220 record holder, teaming up with Williams. Sims turned in a 9.6s century while

Losee serves as panel consultant in recreation

Mr. Ferron Losee, chairman, Division of Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Athletics at State College and Mr. George Willott, Director of Recreation will attend the California State Recreation Convention to be held in San Diego today and tomorrow.

Losee will act as special consultant during a panel discussion on "Problems of Recreation Education in Developing Undergraduate and Graduate Curriculum."

Mr. Willott will serve as chairman of a special section which includes the aforementioned panel. He will act as special consultant on several other panels to be conducted.

running unattached last year. His LACC record for the furlong is 21.2s set in 1948 against Compton College.

Another outstanding prospect is Jim Bell, who moves up from LACC where he registered a 2m 01.5s half mile. His teammate, Jim Strigle, who is a Diablo cross country monogrammer, is also out for the 880 as well as the mile and possibly the two mile.

Leather lungers Gil Zinniker, Behr, and Norm Gauthier give LASC additional depth in the distance events.

Included among the other turnouts are Lou Albarni, City College intramural discus champ; Ken Younger, sprint transfer from Fresno State, who is credited with a 9.7s 100; and Larry Foley, hurdler.

Cagemen lose 2 close tilts

The Diablo basketball team is back home again after making an ill fated jaunt upstate to Santa Barbara College and to Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo. At Santa Barbara a late State rally fell short by two digits as the Gauchos rang up a 52-50 win. Cal Poly topped Coach Sax Elliot's crew 59-55 to reverse the previous defeat in the Los Angeles State College Invitational Tournament.

The Gauchos held a comfortable 25-16 lead at halftime and with only five minutes to go in the second half were out in front 47-36 when the Staters came to life and made a battle of it.

Dick Green poured in 15 points for high point man. Curian scored 9 markers and Corrigan sank 8 points in the losing struggle. Green made 7 of his markers on the free throw line.

The Mustangs invade the local hardwood this Friday for a return engagement with the Diablos.

All State College students interested in trying out for the State College baseball team or
