Following the rally booths at the fair ground on Snyder Field will be in operation today and tomorrow with a square dance and a social dance planned for the two nights respectively.

At the time the coach is announced by the administration Southern California's Jess Hill, former head track and new head football coach there, will speak on the place of football in college life.

Football Carnival

Music guests sparks rally at noon today

State College's first football fund Rally sounds off today at noon in the Auditorium. All classes will be dismissed from 12 m.

Jess Hill newly appointed head football coach at U.S.C., will be the first guest on the agenda. He will shed light on the problems and advantages of a football team.

Entertainment will feature some of the Southland's most popular performers. The Randy Van Horn Encores, formerly on the Joe Graydon T.V. Show, will be one of the main attractions. They made their initial State College appearance at last Fall's Harvest Hop.

The young Smith Twins will blend voices in their presentation. Now enjoying the success of a night club career, the girls appear an radio and television.

Doodles and Spider currently appearing at the Bar of Music, will entertain with routines that have made them famous in local night spots.

Song Leaders Pat Koehm, Dorothy Bartholio, Pauline James, and Margaret Kennedy will receive their letters. Harry Hale, & Marty Halperin will receive trophies for two-year service. Margaret Kennedy will accept the letter of Doug Andress, now on duty with the Navy. The awards will be presented by Betty Coggins, Commission of Rallies.

Paula Annen, as Salome replete with seven veils, will encourage attendance at the nightly performances of "Salome".

Dixie Lee, silver queen of the saddle, will perform with her horse on the Athletic Field immediately following the rally.

SALOME SCORES SUCCESS; RUN ENDS SOON

By John Alexander
Special Writer

Several hundred students crowded into the auditorium Tuesday night to be first nighters of the State College drama department production of Oscar Wilde's play, "Salome".

They were thankful that they made it the first night, because they realize that word gets around fast and that the word on "Salome" is "Terrific!" "Great!" Good seats will not be readily acquired in subsequent performances.

There are those, of course, who do not know how to appreciate a good play, especially a poetic play. They are the ones who will say that the play had too many flowery words. They are, however, in a minority, for the general consensus is that Salome is a powerful play and is done excellently by the drama department.

There are two main reasons actors do not get paid; two, the audience does not pay. Other than that the shy signature of "Mr. Professional" is signed on the lighted stage.

St. Mathews in the Bible will give you the gist of the play. Or listen to the opera by Richard Strauss. The libretto was taken from the play.

The cast, headed by Paula Allen, were under complete control of their particular parts throughout. They all have solid acting backgrounds which they amply display in their roles of the present play.

Paula Allen (Salome) fascinates you as the daughter of iniquity; Morris Buchanan (Jokanaan) literally scares you with his earth shaking power; Grant Shepard (Herod) commands attention when he speaks; Dorothy Brooks (Herodias) is a study in contrast.

"DEVILS DIVERSION" ARRIVES

"Devils Diversion" is the theme of the Senior Prom to be presented Tuesday, May 29, at the Holywood Riviera in Redondo Beach.

Verne Rowe's Orchestra will furnish musical entertainment in the form of dreamy waltzes, smooth fox-trots, lively rumba, tango, and swing numbers for State College Seniors and their guests from 8:30 to 1 in the morning.

According to Wayne Stoops, Senior Class President, "Graduating seniors will be given complimentary bids to the Prom. Anyone else may find them on sale at $1.20 a bid in Bungalow C or from Senior Class Officers.

The President of the Alumni Association, Earl Dunstan, will be introduced at the dance. Those wishing information about the alumni may meet him then.

"Many pleasant memories will be gained by those students attending this dance for I sincerely believe this Prom will be the most successful in the history of State College," stated Wayne Stoops, Senior President. "Much of the credit for this dance goes to Evelyn Fishfader, Vice-President of the Senior Class, since she has headed all committees in preparing the activity," he concluded.

Dunstan's activity list stretches

Will speak at commencement

by Erma Bergstrom
Club Editor

A list of the accomplishments of Earl Dunstan on the State College campus would fill this issue of the College Times. On campus since 1949, a transfer from Compton, Dunstan has made himself one of our best known men on campus by virtue of his being in nearly every school activity.

His current passion is the promotion of "State Fair", designed to raise money to field State College's first football team. Dunstan uses his favorite phrase in connection with the project—"Another first for State College."

He says, "I have hoped that the Football Fund project would restore unity of organizations on campus. We have the chance to become an outstanding college, but it is entirely up to the students."

Dunstan is no rah-rah boy, no social hot-dog. His aim is a serious one. A graduate student, he will move into the teaching business at the very modern Arvin High School in Kern County. His background in business should be of great utility.

For a year Dunstan has been in charge of the Business Lab, in the Administration Building. He helped organize and was president of Sigma Chi Alpha, accounting and professional fraternity here.

He is a member of Blue Key, men's national honor fraternity, and is new in the Scholarship Society.

With Dr. Floyd Eastwood, Dunstan worked to coordinate the Summer Session activity program in 1950. Last fall the Harvest Hop, annual fall dance, was the result of his efforts.

One of Dunstan's last actions on campus will be Commencement exercises on June 14. As president of the Alumni Association, which he was instrumental in organizing, he has been invited to address the graduating students.

He will work toward his ad-

Burleigh names essay winner

Winners of the semi-annual contest sponsored by Mr. George Burleigh are Carole Kerr, Nancy Williamson, Mildred Rosenzweig, and Robert Epstein.

Dr. C. K. Sandelin, chairman of the Language Arts Department, presented Mr. Burleigh at the awards meeting held yesterday where cash prizes of $30, $15, $10, and $ were received by the winners.

Carole Kerr's "How I Can Eliminate Bigotry and Prejudice" essay emphasized that the elements can be eliminated through education and by the personal actions of individuals.

Nancy Williamson stressed the important role the elementary school can perform to kill this social menace.

Mildred Rosenzweig compared this evil to a disease that is spread by people's ignorance and fear.

Robert Epstein's essay suggested the use of logic and reason based on past history as a possible solution.

Judges were Dr. Carter Jefferis, Division of Social Sciences; Dr. Sterling Kincaid, Division of Language Arts; and John Kudera, Education Division.

ministrative credential at USC, under the direction of Dr. Nelson, one of the country's outstanding men on finance.

He said, "State College needs the type of student who will work, really work, to make a better college." Dunstan himself is a good example of what the college and the community needs.

Night students' Holiday Hop set

All Extended Day students are invited to their spring "Holiday Hop" featuring LaVerne Boyer and his orchestra, the State College "A Capella Choir", and intermission square dancing next Tuesday from 8:30-12 p.m. at nearby Newman Hall.

"This is the biggest social event planned for the Extended Day students this semester," noted Frances Metcalf, Extended Day Student Council Co-chairman. "Since the Wednesday following, May 30, is a national holiday, students will have no vocational obligations or immediate exams that might keep them away from this gala FREE social occasion", she added.

State College evening students will be admitted to this affair free upon presentation of their student activity cards and each may bring a non-college guest is so desired.

"Members of Epsilon Delta Sigma, and Omega Alpha Delta, Extended Day Men's and Women's Honor Service Groups have volunteered their services to make this dance a success," Miss Metcalf added.

John Savage, well-known local square dance caller, will lead the dancers in easily-executed square dance steps during the evening.

Salome continued

her selfish wickedness; LaVerne Duncan (Herodias's Page) puts pathos into your heart; and Tommy Bond (Young Syrian) moves you when he stabs himself.

Others in the cast who performed very well were Bill Gordon, Al Rosenstein, Bill Fleener, Jim Kirkwood, Bobs Watson, Harriet Smith, Michele Husson, and Willeen Kinsey.

The excellent directing was done by Irving Sunasky. The costume supervisor was Ray Aghayan.

There will be only two more performances, May 25 and 26 in the auditorium at 8:30. That is, tonight and tomorrow night. It is free to students and public.

Seniors stray; swim and play

Eighty five seniors "ditched" all their cares along with their classes on "Ditch Day" last Friday. They traveled to the Hollywood Riviera on the beach at Redondo, where a welcome change from homework to holiday awaited them.

Volley-ball in the grassy and beflowered patio, and swimming in the large, fresh water pool were the most popular sports. That big "splash" which must have been heard all the way back to campus was made by the high-divers and water-ball enthusiasts.

Cards, games, dancing to the juke box, sunbathing, and just plain "loafing" were also enjoyed by the vacationing seniors.

A delicious luncheon featuring spaghetti and meat balls was served in the dining room overlooking the ocean. Dr. Esther Penchef, dean of women and Dr. Raymond Rydell joined the ditchers for lunch.

The seniors' "liberation" began at approximately 10 a.m. and ended when the last tired but reluctant escapists departed at 5:30 p.m. They were sorry to see their one precious day of freedom come to a close.

Concessions continued

King or Queen of State Fair. Candidates for King are as follows: Jack Albritton, Jack Hodgson, Art Fabian, Ray Newman, Bill Blankenchip, Don Segale, and Andy Bellomo.

The candidates for Queen include Marian Pittman, Charlotte Balding, Erma Bergstrom, Joanne Middleton, Dorothy Lister, Irma Tadini, June Lowe, Mary Bechely and Jo Wright.

Counting of the votes for Queen and King will be done prior to the Square Dance at 8:30 tonight. The Queen and King will be announced at the dance. Gifts for the royalty will be made at the Social dance Saturday evening.

Round and round she goes

"Round and round she goes and where she stops nobody knows," will herald the two S.A.M. wheel of fortune booths.

In each booth a wheel will turn, clicking by a circle of numbers which may or may not correspond to the player's placement. If luck is with the person he or she will receive a carton of cigarettes or a pound of coffee, for fifty cartons of cigarettes and fifty pounds of coffee are to be given away to the winners.

All will like to spin the wheels of fortune, for here whether the player wins or loses she or he will profit. The prizes are most attractive but a football team is the top goal of all of us at State.

Faculty hears talk

Dr. Aubrey Douglas, of the Division of State College, addressed the local faculty association May 15.

Dr. Douglas discussed the operation of the various State Committees on Education, and explained that the central administration of State College at Sacramento works for the interests of the entire State.

At the close of the meeting he answered questions from the audience, and discussed the prospects of legislation enabling State College to move from this campus.

Photoplay schedules contest

A national search for dramatic talent among young women high school graduates under 25 years of age, the winner to study for two years at the famous Pasadena Playhouse College of Theatre Arts, was announced recently by Photoplay Magazine.

The winner will receive, in addition to the scholarship, room, board, books, student fees, an allowance for spending money and transportation from her home to the college. The college grants those students who have had two or more years of college prior to entering the Playhouse, a BA degree in Dramatic Arts.

Three semi-finalists of this contest will visit the Playhouse this September, as the guests of Photoplay, for the selection of the scholarship student from auditions held before the following board of judges: Ethel Barrymore, actress; Gregory Peck, actor; Joseph Mankiewicz, writer-director; Stanley Kramer, producer; Thomas Browne Henry, Dean of the Playhouse; Lyle Rooks, Hollywood editor, Photoplay.

is based upon the plea—"I've gotta stay home with the baby!" Tri-Alpha and Phrateres have seen to that!

They've set up a Baby Sitting Service to accommodate the parents who wish to enjoy the side-shows and dancing unencumbered by the little darlings.

"Take the little angels to B 19. The hours of business are 12 m-9 p.m. Friday; 6-9 p.m. Saturday. Mothers are advised to bring the necessary paraphernalia such as bottles and diapers," said Diane Hirsch, president of Tri-Alpha.

"We will provide the toys and the loving attention all for the small fee of 25 cents per hour!" added Alice Arms, president of Phrateres.

Eat, drink at the CSTA booth

Soft drinks, coffee, and donuts will be served and "resting" benches provided at CSTA's refreshment booth.

The organization's second booth offers a miniature mouse race track. "Come and see mice named after your favorite profs; win the tout," said Doug Jones, chairman. "Each bet is only ten cents and the prizes are cigarettes."

Shoot, fire, pitch at Pan-Hellenic

A whirling siren will single out the position of the Pan Hellenic Booth.

Each of Pan Hellenic's three sororities Zeta Tau Sigma, Alpha Theta Pi and Delta Beta Sigma are to occupy a portion of the booth. The Zetas have dishes in a tub of H<sub>2</sub>O at which pennies are to be pitched. A penny landing in a dish means that the player has landed a prize.

Delta Beta Sigma will feature water guns dousing lighted candles. The Alpha Thetas will allow marbles fired by sling-shots to destroy dishes.

Throw, spin, win

Chesterfields, Chestfields, Chesterfields, packs of them are the prizes to be awarded sharp shooting bean bag throwers and lucky wheel of fortune guessers at the Rho Delta Chi and Delta Kappa Phi booth during State Fair.

Targets of the bean bag throwers will be well drained cans of brew. Knocking them over is the object of the throw. Wheels of fortune players have a board with numbers to wager on.

Herb Heller, booth chairman for Chi Alpha Sigma during the

The contest consists of a series of four screenings. During August, six hundred young women, selected on the basis of questionnaires and letters, voice recordings and pictures, will appear before one of the 64 local auditions boards throughout the country. Serving on these boards will be representatives from the local radio and television stations, newspapers, colleges, and The National Thespian Society (an organization devoted to the advancement of dramatic art in the secondary schools).

After the selection of the winner at Pasadena, the two runners-up will appear on radio or television programs and will be interviewed by the casting directors of three major studios. The hundred top-running contestants will be brought to the attention of major radio and television networks, producers, directors, little theatre groups, stock companies and modelling agencies.

Complete details and rules for entering this contest will be found in the June and July Photoplays.

Camp Fund Drive Carnival, stated "through our turtle races were a great attraction, our prizes of a pack of Chesterfields was the real drawing power of the booth."

Damacitas fly ping pong balls

Skill and luck will go hand in hand when players try their aim at the Las Damacitas booth.

Ping pong balls will fly through the air toward three levels of open glass jars, as the "thrower" tries to land a ball in one of them. Each level is worth a larger prize enticing the players to their maximum.

Fun and prizes await participants.

Money-men serve hot pups

Sigma Chi Alpha is sponsoring the hot dog concession and will operate the ticket booth at which tickets will be sold for the concessions and for the dance Saturday night.

Mr. Sib O. Hansen, assistant professor of Business Administration and charter sponsor of Sigma Chi Alpha, will be head cook for the hot dog concession.

Brains descend to corn and nuts

Corn and nuts will be the "intellectual" motif of the booth jointly sponsored by The Scholarship Society and the International Council for Exceptional Children.

"The popcorn will be warm and fresh throughout the fair fun, for the booth will be jumping with a real, live popping machine," announced Mal Acree, president of the Scholarship Society.

"Come by and buy a munch," added Joe Baldwin, president of I.C.E.C.

Newman Club dances

The Newman Club, social club for Catholic students, will hold a dance this Sunday, May 27, at Newman Hall. The dance will start at 8 p.m. and last till 12. Admission for members is free, 25 cents for others. "Sports dress will be accepted attire, Levis will be frowned upon", announced Jim Mill, publicity chairman.

Bell proven tops as a speed burner

★ Holds school record in 440 ★

Ask Jim Bell who wins a race and the wing-foot runner is liable to tell you, "the one who comes in first with the fastest time." "First" has been Bell's theme since he "first" donned a cinder suit midway in the 1949 season.

Jim Bell

He ran a 36s 330 while in Coach Harry Campbell's City College gym class and was immediately recruited for the Cub team.

The day after joining the team he ran third in the 440, in 51.7s, against the USC Frosh. This was the first quarter mile he had ever run and the first time he had ever run in track shoes. It was also the first track meet he entered.

Several weeks later Bell turned in the fastest 440, 49.8s, out of 12 men qualifying for the Drake Relays. He ran the fastest half mile of his career in his first try at that event during the Fresno Relays that season. His time was 1:58.4s

Bell was fourth in the 880 in the National Junior College meet and last year was a member of the Cub mile relay team which unofficially set a new world JC record in 3:16.8s.

When the versatile runner cleared up this year for his first season at State, he lowered the school 440 mark two times before letting up. He first lowered it to 49.5s and on the second try sunk it to 49.2s where it now stands. In a meet at UCLA he triumphed over such national track greats as Bill Parker and Don Halderman of Los Angeles Athletic Club and Sage and Benton of Pepperdine.

An interesting note to the whole affair is that Bell was at his best when he was on a three week vacation from the Post Office. It was during this period that he broke the school record both times.

Whenever he is put on an equal footing with the rest of the field, Jim Bell is the best bet to "get there first in the fastest time."

Faculty elects new officers

A new slate of officers has been chosen for the State College Faculty Association for the coming year. President of the group will be William Gellermann, professor of Education. Frank Hill, associate professor of Business Administration, will serve as vice-president.

Morris Val Jones, assistant professor of Speech, was elected treasurer; and Carrol J. Smalenburg, assistant professor of Education, was chosen secretary.

Elected to the executive council were Ann Greer, assistant professor of English, and Leslie Nelson, associate professor of Education.

In the past years the Faculty Association has helped the administration on matters of teacher tenure, sabbatical leave, salaries, and the guidance of recommendations for legislation.

Social functions, where all State College teachers may become acquainted, have been arranged. Efforts have been made to publicize State College and to work in every way for the betterment of the College.

Bridge tournament opens; teams form

The Second Annual Intercollegiate Contract Bridge Championships will be held May 29 to June 3 at the Elks Temple, 6th and Parkview.

State College and thirteen other colleges from the Los Angeles area entered teams in last year's tournament.

Persons interested in entering the tournament are urged to attend the meeting in B-C at 11 a.m. this Friday. Registration for the tournament will be held May 29 between 7-8 p.m. at the Elks Temple.

All unsold bids to the fair frolic and money collected must be turned in to Jo Middleton today.

State profs to attend lecture

Los Angeles State College will be represented at the forthcoming UNESCO Regional Seminar on the Social Studies to be held at Pepperdine College May 25 and May 26 by Dr. Harry P. Bailey, Assistant Professor of Geography and Louis De Armond, Assistant Professor of History.

The purpose of the seminar is to consider Geography and History as proper instruments for promoting international understanding in elementary and secondary schools and colleges. Reports on recent similar seminars, recent UNESCO textbook sessions, and related topics will be presented and discussed in general sessions. Work groups will consider the development of ideas on content and method in textbooks and the staff functions of History and Geography in promoting international understanding.

Professors Bailey and De Armond accepted the invitation of Professor Hugh Tiner of Pepperdine to represent Los Angeles State College.

Moreland, Willman betrothal revealed

Barbara Moreland, State College senior, announced her engagement to Campbell Willman.

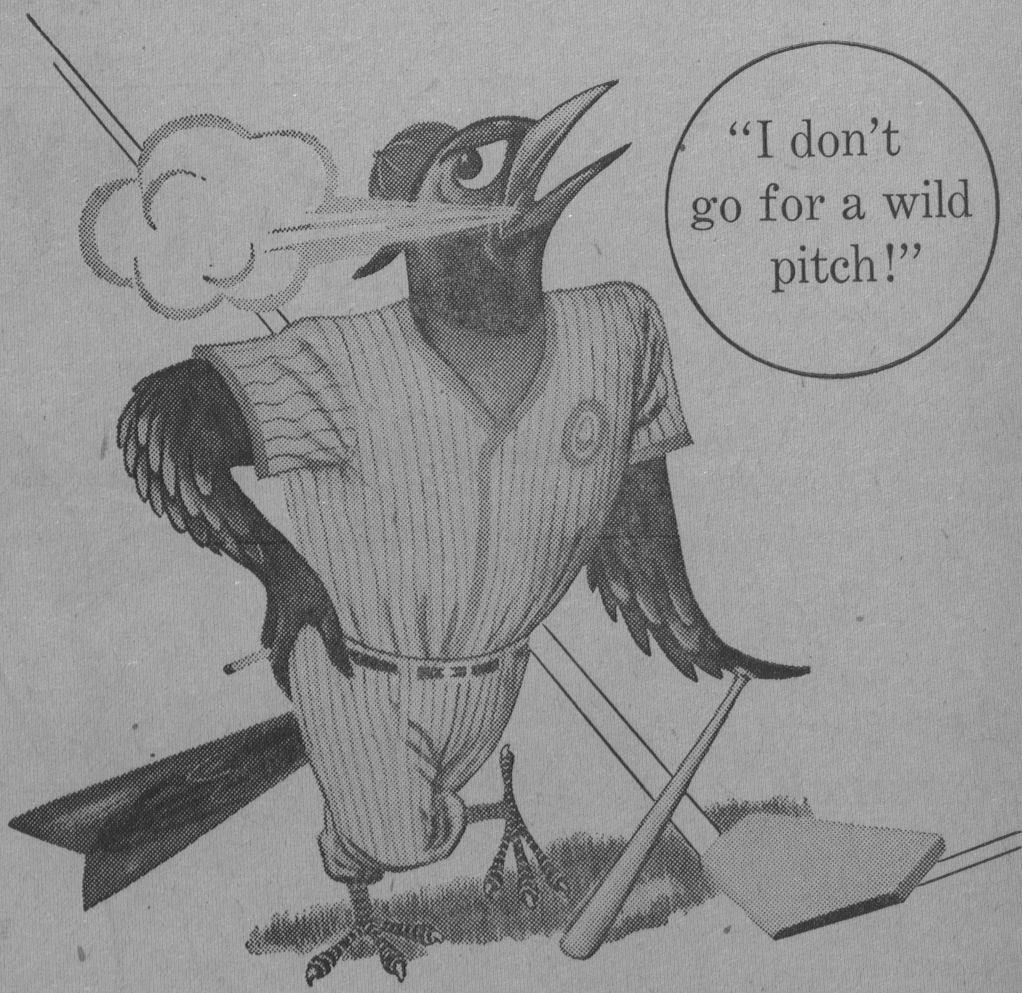

Miss Moreland, an education major, doing her practice teaching now and will graduate this summer. Before transferring here from Pepperdine, she was a photographer for Screen Guide magazine.

Willman is a graduate of Calif. and Fuller Theological College in Pasadena.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Debators go to Poets' tourney

The State College Debate Squad attended the Forensic Tournament at Whittier College on Saturday, May 19.

The topic discussed was "Resolved that National Government Should Guarantee a Four Year College Education to Intellectual Superior Students."

Those who attended were Phil Forthun, Al Rosenstein, Jack Higgins, and Joan Minkin, president of the club. The sponsor, Frederick Shroyer, served as a judge for this group.

Colleges attending included USC, City College, Pomona, San Diego State, and 13 others.

Although debate is a new activity at State College, the group made a good, showing in the tournament. It is expected that with a larger budget next year, and more participants in this field, State College will improve its standing.

"Much of the credit for this new activity goes to the Executive Council through its farsighted planning for new activities.

"City College has long been recognized throughout the United States for its superior debate squad. It is hoped that with the entrance of some of these City College people in State College next year that the Executive Council will see fit to increase the budget of the Debate Squad and thus increase the reputation of State College in Forensic Activities," stated Phil Forthun, captain of the team.
