

Hutchins lecture set for Thursday

Robert Maynard Hutchins, associate director of the Ford Foundation and former chancellor of the University of Chicago, will speak on "Education on Trail", Thursday, Oct. 23, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

Hutchins, a renowned figure in American educational circles, is being presented by the Los Angeles State College Extended Day Student Council. Complimentary tickets may be obtained in Bungalow G and Ad 219, according to Edward Hall, extended day student council president.

Education leader

A leader of progressive education, Hutchins was born in 1899, in Brooklyn, N.Y. In 1922 he obtained the first of the many degrees which he was to receive, an AM from West Virginia University.

He has received doctorate degrees from the following universities and colleges: University of West Virginia, Lafayette College (1929), Oberlin College (1929), Williams College (1930), Berea College (1931), Harvard University (1936), University of Tulane (1938), University of Copenhagen (1946) University of Illinois (1947), University of Frankfurt (1948), University of Stockholm (1949).

Famous professor

He was a master of English and history at Lake Placid, N.Y. in 1925-27. From 1923 to 1927 he was a secretary at Yale University, a lecturer at the Yale Law School in 1925 to 1927, and acting dean in 1927 and 1928. He was dean in 1929.

In 1929 he became the president of the University of Chicago, a post he held until 1945, after which time he held the title of chancellor of the university until 1951.

Hutchins has also written three books, "No Friendly Voice," "The Higher Learning in America," and "Education for Freedom."

Announce deadline on books, supplies

Deadline to purchase books and supplies under the Veteran's Public Law 346 and 16 and the California State Rehabilitation Bill is Oct. 31.

Refunds for authorized off campus purchases, made at the Associated Students' Store prior to receiving the letter of eligibility, will be made at the store Nov. 3 through Nov. 14.

Veterans are urged not to delay in applying for refund. No refund will be made after Nov. 14 unless the letter of eligibility is received after that date.

EDUCATION APPLICATIONS

New students entering State College for the first time in the fall of 1952 are required to make application for admission to candidacy to the Division of Education. This also pertains to all education students who have failed to make application in the past. Forms can be obtained in Bungalow 41.

All forms must be turned in to Bungalow 41 not later than Oct. 24. Failure to do so will delay your admission as a candidate to the Division of Education until next semester.

ROBERT MAYNARD HUTCHINS

Urge students to take test

Major General Lewis B. Hershey wishes to emphasize that increasing manpower demands make it important that each draft-eligible student who has not taken the Selective Service College Qualification Test do so as soon as possible.

Students whose academic year will end in Jan. 1953 are urged to take the Dec. 4, 1952 test. It is important that the test score be available by that time as draft boards will reopen and reconsider these cases. Application blanks are to be obtained from the local draft boards. Blanks for the Dec. 4 test must be postmarked not later than midnight of Nov. 1, 1952. The test will be administered by local boards.

The test will be given again on April 23, 1953, but students are asked not to delay filing.

Reveal absentee ballot procedure

Those wishing to use absentee ballot for the coming presidential election must apply to the registrar of voters between October 15 and 30, according to the California Elections Code.

Applications should be addressed to Benjamin S. Hite, registrar of voters, 808 North Spring Street, Los Angeles 12, California, and must be in writing signed by the voter.

The application must state the voter's place of residence in Los Angeles County and the address to which the voter requests the ballot mailed.

Voted absentee ballots must be executed and post-marked on or before Election Day, November 4. Last day for voted ballots to be received by the Registrar of Voters is November 20.

Stewart joins counseling staff

Formerly associated with the Veterans Administration in the Educational Advise section, Dr. Cecil Stewart, recently added to the counseling staff of Los Angeles State College, is particularly cognizant of the problems confronted by returning veterans in their readjustment to civilian activities and the resumption of their college careers.

Dr. Stewart is available for consultation on Mondays, 3 to 4 p.m., in Bungalow J.

Appointments at the counseling center, which is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., on Tuesday from 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m., and on Thursday from 8:30 a.m. until 9 p.m., may be made with Miss Ruth Eley—extension 310, or by calling Bungalow J.

Change Fulbright requirements

Eligibility requirements for Fulbright Scholarships have been amended to include first-year graduate students and graduating seniors, according to a recent announcement from the Institute of International Education.

Basic eligibility requirements are: U.S. citizenship, good health, and a knowledge of the language of the country for which you are applying. Those interested in applying should file applications immediately in Bungalow G, since the closing date is Oct. 31.

Diablos plan rally today at noon

Featuring new yells, skits and card tricks, the Rally Commission will lead State College students in singing the fight song as they prepare for tonight's football conference opener with Santa Barbara by staging a giant noon rally in the auditorium.

Diablos are urged to attend and support our gridders who have been pointing to tonight's game since the start of the season. The rally will be short in duration, so bring your lunch and help inspire our team.

Homecoming theme selected

"State's Going Places" was selected as the theme for Homecoming on Oct. 31. The committee made their choice from a variety of selections that were submitted.

The judges, who were Irvin Borders, Norm Johnson, and Harry Hale, made their choice from four topics. They were "New Life on an Old Campus", "New Day for State", "Moving Pains and Stately Gains", and the one chosen.

Since a new campus has finally been chosen for this school, it was a unanimous decision that the theme be based on our new location and moving.

The theme last year was "Old Grads and New Grids".

Plan for history, constitution exams

Optional examinations to meet requirements in American History and the United States Constitution will be given on Nov. 20 from 3 to 5 p.m. in Bungalow M. Students are referred to page 36 of the 1952-53 Bulletin for determination of eligibility.

Application to take these examinations must be made in Bungalow O between 9 and 10 a.m. on MWF, 2:30 and 3 p.m. on TTh or 6:30 and 7 p.m. on W, and by appointment, or with Dr. Rydell in Bungalow N between 6:30 and 7 p.m. on M.

An added attraction to the noon festivities will be the showing of movies of last year's homecoming floats and rally. Instructions for new card tricks will be given by Welly Rogers, rally commissioner.

"We are looking forward to complete cooperation from students at the game tonight," stated Rogers. "Much work and planning has been devoted to these tricks so we ask all State College students to sit in the cheering section and follow instructions in order to perform all tricks with success."

Rooter hats

Rogers also revealed that rooter hats are being sold by the commission at standard retail prices. Besides aiding budget difficulties, the sale of hats help to create a uniform decoration for all Diablo rooters to wear.

Made available through the cooperation of Mr. Flynn, general manager of the student store, all profits from sales of hats are returned to the ASB fund for student use.

Offer anonymous scholarships

Two anonymous memorial scholarships, worth $25 each are being offered for the first time this semester to senior or graduate students who have previously attended Los Angeles State College.

Applicants are eligible who have a 1.5 grade point average and preferably who are majoring in the field of Language and Literature.

Deadline for filing these applications will be Friday, Oct. 24.

Baldwin Hills,—A Real "Site" for LASC Students' Sore Eyes

Just an ordinary street corner now, the intersection at La Brea Ave. and Coliseum St. will soon be the new home of Los Angeles State College. LA Examiner photo.

State acquisition of title to the new LASC site in Baldwin Hills was seen as being accomplished by Christmas, according to Dr. Chester R. Milham, vice president of the college. "It is expected," he said, "that condemnation proceedings concerning the property will be completed by that time."

Curriculum expansion and improvement plans are also predicted to be ready by that date. Department heads and faculty members have been contacted and are now working on programs for the new college.

Hopes for extensive curriculum in industrial arts, nursing and graphic arts have increased considerably with acquisition of the new site last week.

Plan additions

Although constructions of buildings on the new campus will be greatly determined by the type and size of curriculum offered,

Ruel J. Taylor, director, of the division of school planning for the State Department of Education, visited this week with Dr. Howard S. McDonald, president of LASC, and discussed progress made on master building plans.

Dormitories have not been included in present construction plans, however, on-campus housing facilities could be added in the future should there be sufficient demand.

Is she for real?

Stage star discovered on campus by writer

By Richard C. Blank

"How do the girls at State College stack up against Marilyn Monroe?" This question rushed through my brain as I put aside the last of a series of articles entitled "Wolves I have Known" which La Monroe had written for a local news sheet.

According to Marilyn, one of the earliest approaches she encountered was that of the "Would you like a movie career?" line of attack. This much is understandable, but it's difficult to believe that Marilyn (shrewd cookie that she is), or any wide awake dish of femininity could fall for a line like that. That routine was already on the decline with the release of Griffith's "Birth of a Nation".

"Hu huh, Marilyn," I thought to myself, "I simply don't believe you." To prove to myself that 20th Century Fox's answer to Princess Rita was all wet (in a most refreshing manner, of course), I set out to poll the more "movie approachable" type girls on our campus.

AIDA DUDNICK
"LASC men show possibilities"

Dudnick stated, "was in 'The Passion Play' at the Chicago Civic Opera House."

What a girl!

Enrolled at State College as a sociology major, Aida, in addition to her theatrical background, has found time and energy to devote to such activities as Girl Scout leader, craft shop instructress, and USO jr. hostess.

Despite her dainty feminine appearance, while still in Chicago, Aida won letters in fencing, volleyball, basketball, and field hockey. These accomplishments, however, serve merely as groundwork to the astounding fact that she served as a military police sergeant with the Civil Air Patrol during the war.

"Flying has long been a relaxing pastime of mine," Miss Dudnick said in a quiet voice. "I soloed at fifteen and had a wonderfully terrifying emergency landing over St. Charles, Illinois several years ago."

To this I simply gulped and made no otherwise intelligent comment.

Having arrived for the first time in Los Angeles, via TWA, less than a month ago, Aida is presently in the process of seeing the sights and becoming acquainted with our college.

Welcome to LASC

"State College is all that I imagined it to be and I'm truly thankful for the opportunity of being able to continue my studies here."

When asked her opinion of the male population here on campus, Aida replied, "They show definite possibilities."

With this we ended all talk of screen careers and newspaper interviews. True, the poll had not brought in the expected results, but, nevertheless, I dropped Marilyn Monroe a short note thanking her for one of the most enjoyable afternoons I've spent on the State College campus.

and left in the special receptacle. Statement's staff this year is headed by Stanley Kiesel, contributor to the California Quarterly as well as to Statement. Ray Slagle, non-fiction; Ray Fabrizio, poetry; Victor Heyden, fiction; and Bill Offner, art, are associate editors. Deadline to submit material is Nov. 21 and probable date of publication is Jan. 12.

Satisfied that Monroe was mistaken (or else had unintentionally achieved stardom through sheer navete), I eyed the last of the beauties to be polled.

She was 5' 5 1/2" and 124 pounds of loveliness. I meandered over to where she sat and asked the now foolish question. Her eye lids raised majestically like theatre curtains. Beneath them slowly casting themselves upon me, were two come hither dark brown eyes. Their answer was a soft "....yes...."

"Yes????!!!!?? Oh, no!" my brain pounded, "no, No, NO!! This couldn't be!"

.... But it was.

Enter Miss Dudnick

It was thusly that I discovered one of the more unusual — and fascinating — students in attendance at LASC, Miss Aida Dudnick.

It turned out to be only natural that Miss Dudnick should be chosen for this poll, as she has had in her twenty-two years an extensive career in show business. In Chicago, her home town, Aida has worked at nearly every legitimate theatre in association with such stars as Richard Carlson, Carlton Carpenter, Jackie Cooper, Olivia de Havilland, Johnny Desmond, Florence Eldridge, Fredric March, Janis Paige, Debbie Reynolds, Jan Sterling, and Ethel Waters to mention just a few.

Her scrap book of memories contain such well-known stage smashes as "Born Yesterday", "Candida", "The Cocktail Party", "Member of the Wedding", "Mr. Roberts" and "Oklahoma".

"My favorite role thus far," Miss

Spanish majors place among top 10 in exams

By F. Michael McCarthy

Significant honor was brought to Los Angeles State College campus by the record made by three former students in the Los Angeles City examination for teachers of Spanish given last May.

Sixty candidates, representative of USC, UCLA, and of other colleges and universities in all parts of the country, competed. 29 of the sixty received a passing grade. Among the first ten, (from whom the Board of Education chooses its teachers,) were Johanna Taafe, Manuel Campos and Angela Goldschmidt.

All three are majors in Spanish who pursued all their upper division and graduate work here; their lower division work at City College. All three have been offered positions by the city board of education; Campos is a probationary teacher of Spanish in a junior high school; the other two declined the position offered them for personal reasons.

"We are proud that LASC has been able to achieve so much in so short a time," commented Dr. Florence M. Bonhard, associate professor of foreign language, "our students of Spanish do us honor."

Since 1949, the Department of Modern Language has doubled in enrollment; most of its students are looking toward a career in teaching.

Dr. Bonhard received her BA, 1921, Stanford; MA 1927, Columbia; PhD. 1946, USC. Additional graduate study was done at the universities of Mexico, Madrid, Paris and Southern California.

Diablo rooters lunch at Redlands

Sylvan Park in Redlands was the scene of gala festivities by the LASC rooting section Saturday, Oct. 11. At seven in the evening a special jam-packed bus unloaded its enthusiastic occupants for a sumptuous picnic before the game. A box lunch was furnished to everyone there. In each lunch there were sandwiches, potato salad, mince pie, and an apple.

Among those present were Student Body President Jim Thomas, Men's Representative Dick Telane, AWS President Jeri Grant, the nine song leaders and three cheer leaders, and of course, many more loyal fans.

1-3 p.m. Tuesday, Thursday.

All students are invited to use the facilities. Business majors are reminded that Mr. Towle, the attendant, will be glad to give free instruction for those preparing for the machines test later in the semester.

Opportunities told for foreign study

Study in foreign countries is offered by the Institute of International Education which recently announced several opportunities which include part of the expenses involved.

General requirements include United States citizenship, good academic record, good moral character, personality, and adaptability, broad knowledge of the culture of the United States and good health.

Mexico

Through the Mexican-United Commission on Cultural Cooperation, the Mexican Government is offering 17 grants to United States students. Eleven scholarships are at the graduate level, six at the undergraduate, with junior and seniors given preference.

The grants pay tuition and 800 pesos monthly to graduate recipients, while undergraduates receive 700 pesos per month. Successful candidates will need their own funds for travel and incidental expenses, and for living expenses until the first stipend payment is made.

Fields of study

Fields in which awards are available at the undergraduate level are Physical Anthropology, Archaeology, Ethnology, Mexican History, Architecture, and Philosophy and Letters. In addition to the first four at the undergraduate level, the graduate field includes Museography, Painting, Biological Sciences, Pediatrics, Tropical Medicine and Cardiology.

Candidates under 35 years of age will be given preference. Sufficient knowledge of Spanish is required to follow a full course of study or training.

Latin America

Fellowships covering round-trip transportation only are being offered by the Pan American World Airways System and by the Braniff International Airways. Study will begin in late 1952 or early 1953. Applicants must have at least a bachelor's degree by the date of departure and a good knowledge of the language of the country in which they wish to study.

Countries of study include Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatamala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Puerto Rico, Uruguay, and Venezuela.

Preference is given to candidates under 35 years of age. Applications must be received by October 31, 1952.

University of Ceylon

Two fellowships covering tuition, board, and double room are being offered by the University of Ceylon, Peradeniya, to graduate students, male preferred. Study is for the academic year beginning June 1953.

With a few exceptions, lectures will be given in English. For field work some knowledge of Sinhalese or Tamil would be required. Filing deadline is January 15, 1953.

Further information regarding these opportunities may be secured from Dr. Ake Sandler in Bungalow O.

Women students are cordially invited on Tuesday's at noon to attend the AWS board meetings. Many of the latest school issues and problems are discussed at this time. Please check with Betty Kolberg in Bungalow G for the place of each meeting.

Club plans 'Antigone' reading

An informal reading of Jean Anouilh's "Antigone" will highlight the meeting of the English Club Sunday night, Oct. 19 at the home of Mrs. Nancy Shields, president of the English Club.

Both faculty and students will participate in the reading which will be organized on a rotation basis.

Antigone was first presented in German-occupied France and, curiously enough, passed a Nazi board of censors despite its anti-german content.

Mr. Anouilh's play, because of its defense of the rights of the individual and its subsequent rejection of Nazi ideology, was a rallying force for French resistance groups.

All students are cordially invited to attend this interesting program. Map indicating the location of Mrs. Shields house will be on the Language Arts bulletin board.

TO WIN OR NOT TO WIN

A football team is like a female motorist. The way either will turn, or what factors will be of influence are constant mysteries.

Last Saturday night the Diablos were beaten by a weaker team in a game well calculated to keep one in disgust. There is no particular point in delving deeply into the faulty factors. Suffice it to say that Devil overconfidence, fired-up opponents, early bad breaks, pressure, nervousness, and ridiculous officiating all had a thumb in the humble pie of defeat.

The mark of a gridiron champion is the ability to get up off the turf and bound back to victory. Both the Diablos and the Gauchos will get that chance in tonight's clash.

Santa Barbara's record shows a win over LaVerne 34-6, and a loss to Cal Poly 19-0, the latter in CCAA play. They dropped a 7-6 decision to Whittier in a practice tilt. So State, with a 50-50 record in two practice rounds, is in a more favorable position in regard to league standings.

Our prediction? If the local men play as a team, they could and should win. If they take the field as self-conscious, nervous individuals the Gauchos figure to improve their record. We believe in this team, but they are going to have to believe in themselves if they want to win ball games.

Salutations to the crowd of State students that journeyed to Redlands and got off some rousing yells. Wellington Rogers and his fellow cheerleaders have knocked themselves out in the past two grid games. Packed bleachers for tonight's session would be a great vote of confidence on behalf of the student body.

Gaucha grids here for league opener

By Dick Riley

Gunning for their first win in CCAA competition, Bud Adams and his Los Angeles State Devils take on Santa Barbara's Gauchos tonight on Snyder field. Kickoff is slated for 8 p.m. Both squads were dealt losses last week. The Gauchos lost to Cal Poly (SLO) 19-0, and a peppy Redlands team took measure of the Devils 20-6.

Coach Stan Williamson's Gauchos will rule a slight favorite over Los Angeles. The Devils had all sorts of trouble against Redlands. They lost four fumbles, and six passes were intercepted, three inside the ten yard strip.

Gauchos rely on Gorrie

Santa Barbara, with a seasonal record of two wins and two losses, will rely greatly on the running of all-conference fullback Dave Gorrie. Quarterback Bill Schaefer is a deadly blocker in the Gauchos' single-wing system, and halves Gary Morris and Bill Davis are hard runners and able receivers. Up front the Gauchos depend on Chuck Miller, a 225 pound tackle, and Charles Green, a hefty 200 pound end.

Adams plans to counter with his one-two punch of tailback Walt Ambord, and 185 pound starting fullback Jim Red Williams. Ambord rates second to Williams in the ball packing department, and also shares in the passing duties. Bob Spindola is a brilliant pass receiver for State. So far he's snagged nine tosses for 130 yards.

Vessella outstanding

Weight, and plenty of it, can be found on the Devil defensive platoon. Tackle Cliff Davis, 268 pounds, is the largest. And the list tapers down to tackle Jim Bogle, 252, and guards Tom Direaux, 244, and Keith Childers, 240. End John Barber, a mere 220, rounds out the list.

Linebackers Morrie Adnoff and Tom Vessella are both due for plenty of action. Vessella was outstanding against Redlands, stopping Bulldog ballcarriers time after time.

Splashers tiff Tech Thursday

Coach Bud Wise's mermen invade Caltech next Thursday hoping to break into the win column. In their last outing, at Fullerton JC, the locals were pounded into submission twice, once by the hosts, 16-9, the other by the Tartars from Compton 7-2.

In the contest at Caltech, the splashing will get under way at 3 p.m. Coach Wise will send the following team into the fray: Leroy Nelson, Noel Scott, Mel Gelfer, at forwards; Bill Ramsey at center-back; Pat Graham and Dick Sullivan at guards, and Frank Graham, goalie.

Diablos take third in distance romp

In an AAU cross-country meet held last Saturday at ELAJC, LA State bagged third place.

Art Garcia of USC won the three mile event. His time was 16:47. Team honors were won by USC with a total of 22 points, followed by the San Diego Navy training station 37, LA State 88, and Long Beach City College 116. Placing for the Diablos were Johnny Garcia 21, followed by Dave Hope 23, and Jim Strigle 24. Garcia's time was 18:32.

Pups use Diablo miscues, win 20-6

By Dick Riley

Playing the role of Santa Claus, last Saturday night at Redlands, the Diablo gridders helped the Bulldogs along to a 20-6 upset victory. Two fumbles and a pass interception set-up all of the Bulldog scoring plays. After seven minutes of action the host team held a 14-0 advantage.

First miscue was a fumble on the part of wingback Jesse Kendrick. It took Redlands three plays to hit pay dirt, with speedy Lowell Trask scooting right end for the score. Bunny Gillett made good on the conversion try. Minutes later John Rushing swipped a Walt Ambord toss and returned it to the LA 15 yard line. A pair of penalties set the ball back on the Devil 35, but the Bullpups quickly scored again with Trask doing the honors. Gillett added the extra point.

Although out pointed on the score board the Devils outgained Redlands in most every department. Total yardage gained favored the losers 236-196, as did first downs, 12-5.

It seemed that everytime the LA offense began rolling, up popped an interception, or a fumble, and the State drive halted.

Towards the end of the first quarter the Staters drove to the UR 43 yard line. Most of the yardage was gained on a pair of tosses from the arm of Jim Williams to end Bob Spindola. The latter took in four during the evening to run his season total to nine. From the 43, Williams hit right tackle and rambled the distance for State's only score of the game. Bob Fox's try for extra point was wide.

Five times LA was inside the Bulldogs 15. However, spotty blocking on the part of the LA

Colleges slate big intramural

Several colleges of Southern California have organized to promote and enlarge the scope of intramural sports in this area. Winners of various sports and activities of the member colleges meet in friendly competition.

The purposes of this organization are as follows: (1) To promote greater interest in intramural recreational activities; (2) To give student leaders an opportunity for personal and professional growth through participation and administration of such a program. (3) To develop a feeling of inter-institutional unity and good fellowship through the social, recreational and educational program sponsored by this association; (4) To extend the privileges and values of inter-group participation through association sponsored play-offs, meets, and tournaments conducted for the best interests of its participants.

To be eligible for intramural competition a player must: (1) not be a member of inter collegiate squad in which activity he wishes to compete; (2) not have earned a letter in a senior college in the same sport; (3) not be a professional player; (4) be currently enrolled in regular session with either graduate or undergraduate status.

The intramural sports council has released the following schedule for the semester.

Volleyball	Nov. 17	Dec. 11	USC
Handball	Dec. 8	Jan. 15	UCLA

WALT AMBORD

CLASS—JUNIOR

"The most spirited team I ever played for," is the manner in which left halfback Walt Ambord described the LASC football squad. Coming here after two years experience with Cal Poly and Valley JC, Walt has become a great asset

JESSE KENDRICK
POSITION—RIGHT HALF
WEIGHT—163
HEIGHT—5'8"
AGE—23
CLASS—SENIOR

Rated one of the fastest men on the football squad, Jesse Kendrick gives the Diablos that extra incentive to win. He feels that if the team maintains its terrific spirit to the Diablo backfield.

Although Ambord felt ill during the Pt. Mugu game, he played brilliantly averaging 5.6 yards per carry. Able to play any position in the backfield, he is willing to fit in anywhere as long as he is in the lineup. Ambord is a real hustler and team player and is optimistic about the team's chances this year. "We can win them all" he said, "if every player just keeps hustling and we play as a team."

Walt is a physical education major and he hopes to coach a team of his own some day.

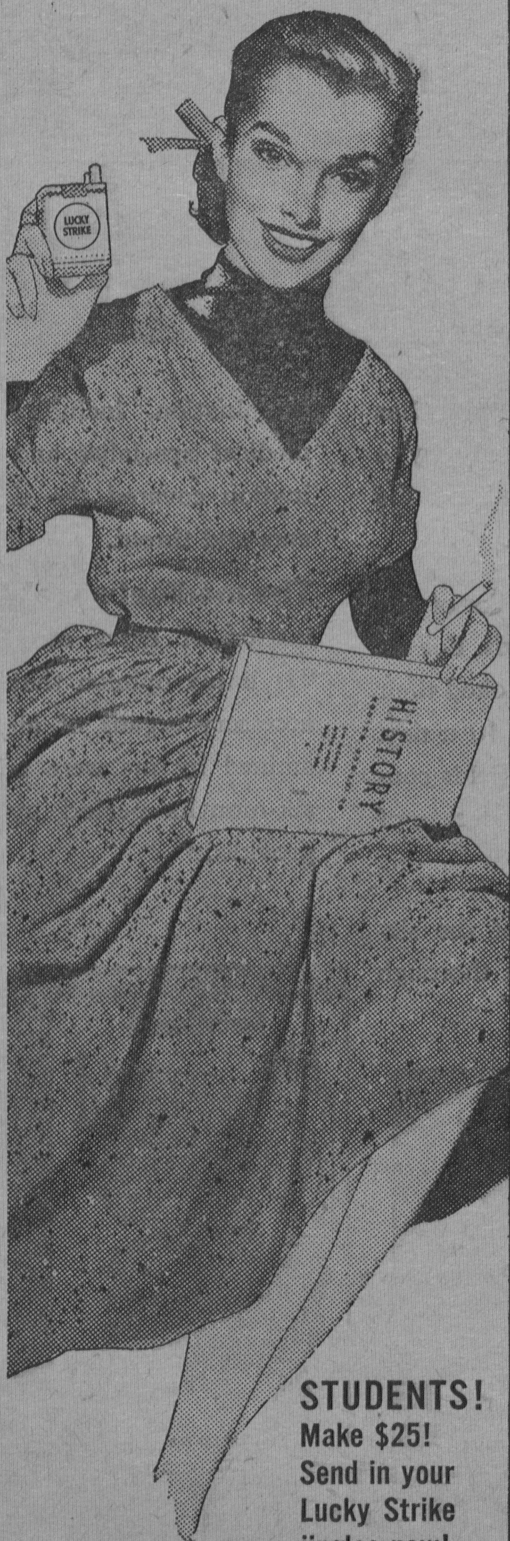

there is a strong possibility of State looking great this season.

"We have a very capable coaching staff," said Kendrick, "and before long State is going to be regarded as one of the strongest small colleges on the Coast." Playing his last season of football, Jesse plans on going into the army upon graduation in June, 1953.

An education major, he enrolled at Los Angeles City College in 1947, coming from a high school in Texas.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
