Thirty-Six Sign Up For A.S. Election

Cisneros, Pippin Seek Presidency; Many Students Running Unopposed

Thirty-six candidates will enter the Associated Students election ring Next Thursday and Friday, battling for 34 major offices. Election signups closed last Thursday with eight offices left vacant. Those positions will be filled by appointment made by the presidents of the classes.

Campus attention will focus on the presidential race being contested by Armando P. Cisneros and William R. Pippin. Competition for the vice presidency shapes up between Jack Moscovitz and Robert D. Zechar.

Quartets Vie At April 29 Spring Sing

Fraternities and clubs will compete in the second annual Spring Sing, Friday, April 29 at 8 p.m., according to Frank Gutierrez and Arnie Lohr, co-directors.

Sponsored by the intramural recreation activities, the contest will be held in the Physical Education Annex.

Singing quartets may consist of men or women, and should prepare two songs stressing barbershop harmony only. Accompaniment will not be allowed to the competing groups. Ballads and novelty numbers will also be accepted.

Hollywood Judges

The Hollywood chapter of the National Barbershop Harmony Society will judge the contest along with a professional quartet. Awards will be given to the best quartet and to the best dressed group.

Quartets from several groups on campus have already submitted their applications. They will represent Phrateres, Phi Epsilon Kappa, Phi Delta, Rho Delta Chi, CAHPER, Delta Beta Sigma, Tau Sigma Nu, and Alpha Phi Omega. Many more are expected.

Application blanks for joining the contest can be obtained in Bungalow G or through the secretary of the PE Annex, Gloria Ryan. Blanks can be dropped in the IRA box in Bungalow G or in the PE Annex. Deadline for filing applications is Monday.

Mrs. Dorothy O'Brien's recreation classes are contributing greatly towards the success of this event, according to the co-directors.

Additional Points

"Additional points will be given towards the ICC trophy and certificates of achievement awarded to the outstanding organizations," said Lohr, ICC president.

"I am greatly pleased with the work on intramural recreation activities," stated George Willott, faculty sponsor of the organization. "Spring Sing will be the social highlight of this semester."

This school event is free and scheduled as an all-college annual affair. The student body is invited as participants and spectators. The faculty may also attend.

Seven Nations Represented on Student Panel

A group of foreign students representing seven foreign countries will review European recovery tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Holmes Hall 6.

Sponsored by the International Club of State College, this panel discussion is one of a series which are presented each week by the club. Question of debate is "European Recovery, 1955—Its Progress and Future."

Represented in the discussion will be Greece, Britain, Germany, Italy, Austria, Netherlands, and France.

Molin Moderates

Don Molin, cultural commissioner for the International Club, will be student moderator. He is also in charge of organizing the panel.

"The United States in the Pacific and Asia—How Effective Are We?" was last Friday's topic in the series. Included in the panel were Yoshinobu Kinjo from Okinawa (Japan), Jose Reyes, Philippine Republic; Warren Wong, China; and Homi Dastur, India.

Attitude Towards US

Answering a question by moderator Molin regarding the attitude of people of those countries toward the US, Reyes brought up the fact that the United States is highly regarded, since it brought in democracy to the Philippines.

NOW, NOT THEN—Famous television personality and professor of English at USC, Dr. Frank C. Baxter, speaks in the Administration Auditorium tonight. Dr. Baxter's talk will be titled "American Humor Today." Admission is free for State College students.

Dr. Baxter Enjoys Life Family, Work Are 'Fun'

By Eva Lindheimer

Dr. Frank C. Baxter, USC's answer to Groucho Marx, considers himself a "personally glamorous clean-living American who is kind to animals."

Dr. Baxter will be the guest speaker tonight in the Administration Auditorium. He will lecture on "American Humor Today."

Born in Pennsylvania, the noted Shakespearean scholar attended the University of Pennsylvania after World War I. He graduated summa cum laude.

Fun Time

"I had a lot of fun in college," reflected the two-time "Emmy" winner.

"I worked my way through school, and I think that it was one of the best experiences I've ever had."

He then went to the birthplace of the Bard, where he gained his doctorate at Trinity College, University of Cambridge. "It was wonderful going to England," said the nation's favorite television professor. "I wanted to go there as I was majoring in English literature."

Reno Time

Somewhat of a novelty for Hollywood personalities, Dr. Baxter has been married 27 years—to the same woman. "It's about time we were getting tired of each other—this is very unAmerican," he grinned.

The Baxters have two children. His daughter, who was graduated magna cum laude from SC, works at the Los Angeles Library. Their son, a Korean War veteran, is now stationed in Germany.

Money Time

This is Dr. Baxter's 25th year as an English professor at SC. "It's my Silver Anniversary all right, but I haven't seen any silver yet," he joked.

While he has been a popular professor at the Figueroa Street institution for many years, it wasn't until he originated his "Shakespeare on TV" that he received national acclaim. He now appears on this show and another, "Now and Then." "I have lots of fun on TV," commented Dr. Baxter. "I make models, letter signs, in fact, I do anything but sweep out the studio."

Award Time

Among the awards he has won for his video work are two "Emmys," one award each from TV-Radio Life magazine, TV magazine, Sylvania, the Shakespeare Club of New York City, and the National Association for Better Radio and Television.

When asked why he picked humor for the topic of his lecture, Dr. Baxter said, "I've been interested for many years on why we laugh. I'm going to talk on the quality of American Humor and whether it differs from the past."

Dr. Luther Addresses Annual Business Meet

Dr. Rodney Luther, head of State's marketing and labor relations department, addressed the 27th annual meeting of the California Association of Public School Business Officials last Saturday at the Del Coronado Hotel, San Diego.

Dr. Luther spoke on public relations training for school district employees. The meeting, attended by school officials and board of education members from all of California, lasted three days. Their main subject was legislative problems affecting school business practices.

Professor Frank Baxter Addresses Convocation On 'American Humor'

Dr. Frank C. Baxter—the man who changed the public's definition of college professors from "dull" to "delightful"—will lecture on "American Humor Today" tonight at 8:30 in the auditorium.

A turn-away crowd is expected for the lecture at a convocation of State and City College students and their guests. Admission is free.

Innovation Set For Model UN Bay Area Meet

With a seven member delegation ready to depart for San Francisco in two weeks, Model United Nations activities are reaching their peak.

Chief delegate Larry Van Mourick announced that this year the Model UN will feature a mock world court. The court of justice will be manned solely by law students from participating colleges.

At some time during the conclave word will be sent to the court with news of an invasion. It will be noted how fast the court brings action.

Wonderful Job

"Chandler Maloy, chairman of this, the sixth Pacific Coast Model UN, has done a wonderful job," said Van Mourick. He added that "it is seldom that a single day goes by without word from the host school."

State's delegation has undergone a major revision since the names of the participants were originally announced. One additional delegate was named and three of the original six were replaced.

The delegation now consists of Van Mourick, Virginia Irwin, Ben Wyatt, Deno Fulgoni, Tahsin Nabulsi, Joe Ingber and Teresa Papay. Alternates are Bennett Mintz, Alex Lianazoff and Marvin Marshall.

Viva Paraguay

Each of the delegates was assigned a different area to cover, with resolutions to be written that will benefit Paraguay—the nation that State represents.

It was mentioned in a release from San Francisco that this year the smaller countries will play a bigger part in the Model UN than ever before. Smaller countries throughout the world are gathering with hopes to combat the larger nations that are taking over the globe with their talk of atom war, and seemingly neglecting the need for unity.

EDITOR REVEALS PRICE CHANGES FOR PITCHFORK

Following a revision of the Pitchfork purchase plan by the Executive Council, Ted Kilman, editor of the annual, released the new prices yesterday.

The price will remain the same, free, for students who have attended State for two semesters in a fiscal year, but those who have attended only one term will have $1.25 credited to their account rather than $2.50 as was originally planned.

The yearbook will appear June 1 and will contain 529 graduates' photos. It will be printed in at least four colors—"maybe more," hinted Kilman. It will also contain a "surprise feature," but Kilman refused to divulge any publication plans.

"I would like to thank all the fraternities and sororities who made my job so much easier by cooperating in the taking of their pictures," commented Kilman.

State College Forensics Group Fields Three Teams to Oxy

State's Forensics Group has selected two debate teams and an oral interpretation team to send to the Occidental College Speech Tournament. The tournament will be held Saturday.

The two debate teams are Jesse Wall and Don Tokowitz, Edward Couture and Jaul Zettersten. Edward Grigg and Earl Clyde will try for oral interpretation awards, while Thomas Dougherty will enter public speaking.

The Forensics Group has selected these people for the tournament because they haven't had much of an opportunity to distinguish themselves in other tournaments, according to Dr. Malcolm Sillars.

Numerous awards and honors have been bestowed upon Dr. Baxter for his work in combining the fields of literature and television. Life magazine recently listed him as one of the eight most popular college professors in the United States.

Strikes Twice

He has been twice awarded an "Emmy," the Television Academy of Arts and Sciences highest symbol of achievement. Dr. Baxter's first "Emmy" was awarded in 1953 in recognition of his television program "Shakespeare on TV."

This program was the first college course in Southern California to be taught on television for academic credit. The show also won the 1953 Sylvania Award as the nation's best local public service program.

He was given his second "Emmy" when judged 1953's outstanding male personality on TV in this area.

More Awards

Dr. Baxter has also received awards from the Dupont Foundation, Ohio State University, TV-Radio Life Magazine, TV magazine, the New Jersey State Fair, the National Association for Better Radio and Television, the Shakespeare Club of New York City, the National Citizen's Committee for Educational Television, and Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic honor society.

In Los Angeles he has been honored by the Chamber of Commerce, Optimist International, and the Adult Education Association.

'Now and Then'

His newest television show, "Now and Then," reviews world literature from ancient to modern times. It is shown in Los Angeles on Wednesday evenings but appears on 95 other stations across the nation on Sunday nights.

Dr. Baxter began teaching at the University of Southern California 25 years ago. He was soon selected as the first chairman of the SC Senate and chairman of his department, a position which he held for eight years.

Gains Fame

Dr. Baxter gained fame, while still an instructor, for his traditional reading of Christmas prose and verse presented annually on the USC campus. These readings were sent overseas by the Armed Forces Radio.

He instructs two courses in Shakespeare, although he maintains a schedule of TV shows and national and public lectures. Two weeks ago a perfect example of his packed schedule occurred.

No sooner had Dr. Baxter returned from the Library of Congress where he gave an "Evening of Poetry" reading, when he had to leave again for Pittsburgh and a guest-speaking assignment in a local television show's anniversary celebration.

Recruiter Visits Campus Monday

M/Sgt. Johnnie R. Jackson, representative from Headquarters, Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, will be on campus Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for the purpose of giving information on the Eight-Year Military Obligation of all men between the ages of 18 and 26 years.

Sgt. Jackson can be contacted in the area outside of Bungalows G and H.

Information will be given as to how an individual can become a member of the Army Reserve, receive credit on his military obligation, be paid for training sessions, be eligible for army correspondence schools, pay rates, clothing, subsistence and quarters allowances in the Army Reserve.

RESERVED PARKING SPACE OFFERED

Clean-Up Contest Opens Monday

April 25 is C Day!

What is C Day? It's the kickoff for this semester's six-week "Campus Cleanup Campaign."

This coincides with the launching of the Los Angeles Beautiful Campaign which is being conducted for a two month period in an effort to improve standards of health, safety, and cleanliness.

Slogan Contests

A slogan contest will be conducted the first week of the campaign. Any student enrolled in City or State may enter. If you can think of a good slogan for the campaign turn it in. The prize for the outstanding slogan is a reserved parking space on campus for the rest of the semester! The deadline for slogans is noon, April 30. They may be handed in to Bungalow H or G.

The Cleanup Campaign is a project of both LACC and LASC students and faculty.

A committee has been organized with representatives from both campuses to plan the campaign. Evening and day divisions have appropriated $25 each toward the campaign.

"This is a continuing problem," explained Executive Dean Wendell C. Black, "and it is not going to be solved in two weeks. There must be a continuing effort to keep the campus clean."

Be Proud

Dean Black also added that all students should be proud of their campus. If it is kept free of papers, cigarette stubs and lunches, it is much easier to develop and increase pride.

Over 10 tons of rubbish are gathered on this campus every week, according to Building Supervisor Ed Dunin. If each and every student doesn't feel that he is a part of the campaign, there will be no use in holding it.

Everything is being done to make the job of keeping the campus clean easy. Trash cans are being put in more obvious places. Cigarette stub cans which have been painted red will be put in strategic positions. Posters are up and the public address system has been used for reminders.

"Remember," Dean Black warned, "that rubbish doesn't just grow. Somebody put it there. If each student follows two simple rules, we'll soon have the problem licked: don't drop it, and if you see it, pick it up. It's really good exercises to stoop over and pick up a piece of paper as you're walking across the campus. Try it."

WHAT A PRIZE, WOW—As a prize for the winning slogan in the cleanup campaign, Dr. Morton J. Renshaw donated his on-campus parking place. The campus campaign coincides with the Los Angeles

Beautiful campaign which is being held over a two month period. This picture was taken on a day when the incinerator was out of operation. It shows only part of the debris picked up daily. (Cut courtesy L.A. Collegian)

Tribute . . .

The genius, Einstein, has passed away,
 And we, his admirers, mourn;
 But, Lo! another has lifted the gray,
 And the genius, Salk, is born.

In the minds of the people, Dr. Einstein, the man, is dead.
 In the minds of the people, Dr. Salk, the man, is born.
 But the memory of these two will remain with us forever. Both worked for the good of the human race and progress. Neither can ever be completely repaid.

A look to the past shows the great strides civilization took through the efforts of the scientist-philosopher. A look to the present reveals the life-saving discovery of the Salk polio vaccine.

And a look to the future? Even greater strides through the groundwork laid by these great men.

And, we the students of State College, as with other students approaching a feeling of nearness with world events, feel the depth of these events. We know only of other great humanitarians through books and cannot attain this close feeling with them.

A tribute to two great men—in the memory of Dr. Einstein, in the presence of Dr. Salk.

On the Other Hand

By Aime J. Parenteau

Don Diablo stopped at the College Times doghouse and picked up a copy of the paper. On the front page, he found the list of next semester's Associated Student officers.

Since he had voted the week previous, he checked the winners against his mental list of candidates whom he had voted for.

A feeling of pride and satisfaction was reflected in a silent smile Don displayed as he noticed that the lists matched for numerous offices.

He was glad then that he took the few minutes of his time to stop at an election booth and voted.

Will this be you on May 5?

Immediately preceding the IFC-Pan Hellenic-sponsored Greek Ball May 7, a full week of activities is planned for the enjoyment of State students and to call to your attention this semesterly dance.

On May 2, Monday, a movie is to be presented with proceeds going to the World Student Service Fund. Price of admission will be 25 cents, and the place will be Holmes Hall 6. The time—2 p.m.

If you happen to be in the Student Union Cafeteria at noon on that Monday, you'll witness some strange doings.

More of these activities will be reported soon on your activities page.

The admission price for the ball will be $2.50 per couple. It promises to be an enjoyable evening. For tickets, you can contact any fraternity or sorority member on campus or drop by Bungalow 2, the CT office, and I'll be glad to give you any information or sell you tickets.

Next week—something about the West Point Society—an organization composed of alumni of the well known Army school—of which a student in State is a member.

Drama Report

By Barbara Walker

"Of Mice and Men," a play written by John Steinbeck, is being produced by the State College thespians and directed by William Huston, under the supervision of Dr. Roger Altenberg of the drama department.

The period is the 30's and the locale, Salinas and Monterey. It is here on a ranch that Lennie, a feeble-minded giant and his friend George, strive to make their dream come true.

Search for Security

Their dream is to find security by buying a ranch. The theme of the play is the dispossessed; none of the ranch hands have any material goods.

Difficulties arise when Curley's wife, a lonely woman, tries to take up with them.

Curley, an egocentric bully, picks fights with smaller men for prestige.

Several other men attempt to get in on the plan for the house; Candy, an old man, and Crooks, a Negro who dreams of betterment.

Frustrated Dream

Meanwhile Lennie, a powerful man, gets into trouble with Curley's wife, and the dream is frustrated. George takes care of feeble-minded Lennie. George also needs Lennie for companionship.

This is a story of migratory crop workers. The setting is a bunk house. Characters are all typical ranch workers. They earn $40 a month which they quickly spend.

This is a play in which simplicity of living, suspense, and sentiment are skillfully combined.

Strive for Realism

The LASC actors and actresses are striving to portray the character with the utmost feeling for reality. A few have discussed the idea of going to Salinas to study the farm conditions and the habits of the workers.

Steinbeck is the author of "East of Eden" which also deals with the area of Salinas and Monterey. He has taken California scenes as settings for others of his plays and novels.

Steinbeck shows great feeling for the poor, migratory worker whose simplicity of living cannot adjust to a complex social environment.

Production Date

"Mice and Men" is scheduled for May 19-21 in the main Auditorium. Admission will be free to all. Curtain time is 8:30.

George is played by Carl Rubin; Candy, Stuart Nisbet; Curley's wife, Frances Mouret; Curley, Jerry Beck. The others are Charles Rich as Slim, Wayne Johnson as Carlson, Fred Scott as Crooks, Milt Shriner as Whit and Roy Atwater as the Boss. Each character has his own dream for betterment.

'History of State'

To Start Next Week

State College may have had a short history—but it's a very interesting one.

Starting with the next issue, of April 28, the College Times Feature desk will present this unique history of our school in a two-part series.

This research story will show the birth of this campus, its unanticipated growth, and its recognition as one of the outstanding colleges in this country.

The prosperous stage in which State College is now was accomplished only since the approval of the Lipscomb Bill in 1947 which allowed its formation.

Its future, like its past history, is bright. One might say even brighter, since State College is moving into a campus of its own.

Sorority Girls Tells Events of Help Weekend

Gee, I made it! I survived "Help Weekend!"

From the stories I've heard and the books I've read, I sort of thought it would be quite an awful experience, our informal initiation. It wasn't an easy time we had, though.

Unusual Items Required

We pledges weren't a bit sure what was ahead of us when the actives gave us a list of items to bring with us: a tin cup, a bottle of paste, a pie tin, a piece of ribbon, unshelled peanuts, a pair of scissors, and some old magazines, among other things. We were surprised to find out why we brought them. The tin cup and pie tin were to eat from and the other things were to make scrapbooks for Children's Hospital.

The next day, we went down to the USO and served coffee and donuts to the servicemen. This was even more fun, and we met some nice fellows, too.

We heard that some of the other pledges went to the mountains for the weekend, and some did volunteer work for the Red Cross.

Rough Part Over

Yes, it's all over now, and I'm glad I had a chance to take part. It gives me a sort of glow of satisfaction for a necessary job well done.

This Sunday is our formal initiation ceremony. Then I will become an active member of my sorority, and these friends I have made during rushing and pledging will become my "sisters."

CSTA Offers Numerous Benefits to LASC Students

By Tom Toland

Any student-teacher planning on practicing in California should join the California Student Teachers Association, for it can afford them a gigantic helping hand.

CSTA was organized in 1937 to stimulate the highest of professional ethics and to promote the social, professional, and economic welfare of student-teachers. It has also helped to improve California's education services in general.

This organization strives to foster active cooperation between the various student-teacher groups and the California Teachers' Association. It has also been instrumental in developing professional attitudes in young men and women who are to be our future teachers.

Many Chapters

Thirty two chapters in various California colleges and universities comprise CSTA's state-wide program of student-teacher aid. Each of these chapters sends democratically-elected representatives to a state executive council board which formulates policies for the society.

Also, when other important professional problems arise, statewide committees are organized to attack the problem. In a like manner, CSTA operates a series of regional workshops that handle professional-teacher problems.

Students enrolled in teacher education institutions who are, or intend to become, candidates for teaching credentials in California may join CSTA. Most chapters admit lower division students who are interested in professional careers. Membership is possible only through a local chapter.

CSTA does not limit membership to "student" or "practice teachers." Rather it encourages early and continuous affiliation during the several years of professional education.

Membership in the State Association costs $1.50. Each chapter collects an additional amount for local purposes. CSTA state and regional activities are largely financed through the efforts of the California Teachers Association and its six sections.

Advantages Gained

Membership in CSTA entitles a student to become acquainted with the leaders in education in California. A member receives subscriptions to the CTA Journal and the CSTA News. The state organization offers student-teachers a placement service. Also, a member has the opportunity to participate in the educational and social events sponsored by the local chapters.

State has a very fine CSTA chapter, headed by President Don Cohen. If you are interested in membership in this association, see Cohen.

Phi Epsilon Kappa Offers Scholarship For Top JC Student

A scholarship will be awarded to an outstanding male student from a local junior college by Phi Epsilon Kappa, men's national PE honor fraternity.

Qualifications for the scholarship include a superior scholastic rating, campus leadership, and high standing in the field of physical education.

The four top candidates will visit State College as guests of the fraternity, and one of them will be selected as the recipient.

About 20 local junior colleges have been notified of this award, according to Tom Bushey, scholarship chairman. Candidates from each school will be interviewed by members of the fraternity.

Horns and Halos

Editor's note: All Letters to the Editor should be typed and must be limited to 250 words. An exception is being made in the case of the following letter, but we must ask that all future letters be kept within the prescribed limits.

Dear Editor: You are justified in calling the LASC one-out-of-eight voting record "a rotten showing." You may be justified in assuming that "Americans who don't care in college . . . won't care in later life either." Concomitantly, "a country with citizens who don't care is in a state of decay . . . a disease which could be fatal in times such as these." And above all, we've "GOT TO CARE NOW."

However, your article present a nihilistic approach toward the growing problem of student apathy; your level of attack is puerile and certainly not in good taste.

"What causes the students to simply give away rights they wouldn't let anyone take away from them?" cannot be answered by the label of "Stupidity." To answer such a serious question by name-calling is to engage in superficial inquiry; it reveals an intellectual bankruptcy susceptible to support of those who would make voting compulsory. Epithets and improper allusions to the anthropoids, aside from being insults to the intelligence of the LASC voter, are sure ways of assuring "a rotten showing" at the polls.

Consider that the right to vote carries with it also the right not to vote; and if people are politically apathetic there must be good reason for it. Any State student will tell you that the conditions essential for a healthy interest in student politics simply do not exist here.

In a large sense, our "problem" is but a minor manifestation of the general political apathy in the workaday world. Most people tend to treat "politics" as if it were a dirty word. Almost two hundred years ago, Adam Smith wrote of "that insidious and crafty animal, vulgarly called a politician."

It is true, of course, that politics and politicians are in bad odor, but they were in bad odor decades ago when popular interest in politics ran relatively high. So it is more than mere disgust that is responsible for current apathy.

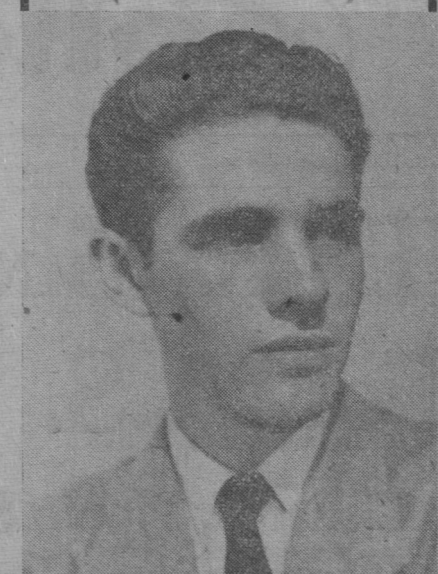

The real reason for the notable lack of popular interest in politics is simply that political society is obsolete. The growth of modern industry has destroyed the very basis of political society under which people are ruled over in relation to the territory on which they live. Trade, commerce, communication—the complicated interrelationships of industry generally—have rendered political, or geographical, boundary lines meaningless and, actually, obstructions to economic intercourse.

But to the great mass of the people, with little or no property interests at stake, politics and political affairs have become remote from the central and commanding interests of their lives. The job is the center of our vital economic interests. Most of us are workers; and the question, "Who is the foreman?" is far more important and relevant than "Who is the mayor?" Can you then be surprised if the students, perceiving no real interests at stake, fail to participate in petty student politics?

Seniors Set Graduation, Prom Plans

Ceremonies Slated For Greek Theater; Top Speakers Sought

Plans for graduation exercises and the June Prom highlighted the senior class meeting last week.

The exercises are scheduled for Friday evening, June 17 at 7:30 in the Greek Theater. President Marvin Marshall and his senior class cabinet

BULLETIN

Suggestions for a senior class gift to the college are now being taken. All suggestions should be written out and put in the senior class president's box in Bungalow G.

are currently working on plans calling for individual graduation for all students and a student speaker as well as a nationally known figure.

Orders for graduation announcements and cap and gown rentals will be released soon through the College Times.

Free Admission

Admission to the June Prom will be free—the first time this have ever been accomplished at State College. The Prom will follow the graduation exercises and will feature Frank DeVol's orchestra, from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m. at the LA Breakfast Club.

Prom committee heads are Pat Fulcher, advertisement bids; Marcia Margulies and Harvey Kauffman, publicity; and Jan Angelo, Jan Jarvis, and Ivan Smith, decorations.

Aid on Plans

Helping Marshall with all senior plans are Angie Fraggiosa, vice president; Miss Fulcher, secretary; Smith, treasurer; Miss Angelo, student contact; Miss Margulies, public relations; and Miss Jarvis, Associated Women Students representative. Dr. Charles Mudd of the language arts department is the group adviser.

Ray Johnson has filed for historian-publicity.

Robert J. Jones is seeking the Junior Class vice presidency, while Ronald M. DeLeon and Arthur Serote are bidding for the posts of secretary and treasurer, respectively, all unopposed. Public relations and student contact positions are vacant.

Harvey Kauffman is running unopposed for Senior Class vice president. Two women, Janice Angelo and Kathleen Kroesen are battling for secretary. Edward Lee has filed for treasurer. Mary Rose Grim and Eva Lindheimer are contesting the public relations post, while Marcia Margulies is seeking the student contact job.

Joining Laraway on the Graduate Class ticket is Dorcas Auger, secretary. All other posts are vacant.

Six Sets

Six sets of ballots will be distributed to the voters during the two-day elections. The ballots will be divided into Junior, Senior and Graduate classes as well as men and women.

Two amendment proposals will appear on the men's ballots. They are: "Should the title Men's Representative be changed to Associated Men Students President in the certain articles of the Associated Students Constitution where this office is referred to?"

And "Shall the following requirement be made as a prerequisite to filing for the office of Associated Men Students President: He shall have served one semester on the Associated Men Students cabinet before he may become the Associated Men Students President."

If accepted the above amendments will become a part of the constitution of the Associated Students.

Several amendments will appear on the Senior Class ballots. The College Times will print them next week as they were not available earlier.

Assembly Votes Building Funds For LASC Sites

The State Assembly Ways and Means Committee this week approved a plan for building two new Los Angeles State College campuses at the same time.

In approving a $2,150,000 expenditure in the 1955-56 state budget, the committee over-ruled Legislature Auditor A. Alan Post, who recommended deferring a start on the San Fernando site.

Post said developing the new campus just off the Ramona freeway would be the most sound approach to transferring students from our present campus.

Dr. J. Burton Vasche, an associate state superintendent of education, said present plans call for 2500 students moving to the Ramona campus next February.

PLANNER — Angie Fraggiosa, Senior Class vice president, is currently helping with plans for graduation and the June Prom.

Spring Festival Dances Spark Talent Display

Armenian students display their dances and songs Saturday at 8 p.m. at the International Recreation Center, 4601 Prospect Avenue.

Sponsored by the Institute of International Education, the center is free and open to all students and the community.

Sam Apelian will open the program with two Armenian songs. Apelian is a student at El Camino College. Aznive Mohdassin, Adrine Karapetian, and Zefur Nicoghossian will perform an Armenian folk dance. All three performers escaped Russia after World War II.

Adrine Karapetian will also perform an "Enzely" Armenian dance.

Tedy Shahakin, a visa student at Loyola University, will play "Lexinga" on the accordion. Aznive Mohdassin will also play the violin. Frank Barbra from City College will accompany the singers at the piano.

Spring festival dances will be performed by students from City and State Colleges, and community people. Included in this group will be Susan Kirianoff, Peter Kirianoff, Winifred Zaroian, Annette Emerzian, Margaret Dinjian, Fay Barsamian, Vahe Apelian, Martin Bohigian, Sam Apelian, and Armand Keosian.

Directed by Bohigian, this group participated at the Eighth International Folk Dance Festival at the Philharmonic Auditorium, March 26.

Acting as master and mistress of ceremonies will be Peter Kirianoff and his hister Susan from City College Visamerican Club.

A social dance, refreshments and games follow the program.

Bernberg Attends Monterey Confab

Dr. Raymond E. Bernberg, psychology instructor, will attend the meeting of the Pacific Coast Committee April 24-26 in Monterey.

Held under the auspices of the Social Science Research Council, the meeting is for small group research only.

Dr. Bernberg will participate in one of the panel discussions to be held during the conference. His topic is "A Specific Methodological Problem in Small Group Research."

The conference will be attended by most social scientists from the West Coast as well as guests from other states.

Members of this group are interested in small group research as it relates to aspects of business, industry, education and governmental agencies.

Marais, Miranda To Perform Here

Josef Marais and Miranda will be guest performers at the State College Spring Music Convocation Friday, April 29, at noon in the Administration Auditorium.

Sponsored by the Associated Students, the affair is free to all students and faculty.

Noted balladeers, Marais and Miranda have sung interpretations of African Zulu chants, as well as their own compositions. Besides South African folk songs, they sing Dutch, French, Scotch, and English songs.

Marais was born and brought up in South Africa. In 1939, he had his own program on the BBC in London. During the war, he joined the Voice of America.

Locally, he has appeared on TV and has recorded albums for Decca.

SPRING TRAINING

Division Sponsors Institute; Discuss Audio-Visual Aids

The annual spring training institute, co-sponsored by the Los Angeles State College Recreation Education department and District XIV of the California Recreation Society, is scheduled for Tuesday, May 3, from 8:30 a.m. to noon. Location will be announced next week.

The program is being organized and chaired by George Willott, recreation curriculum head for LASC, with Dorothy O'Brien of the department as coordinator.

Two sessions on the use of audio-visual aids in recreation titled, "Are we effectively communicating?" are scheduled for the period.

The panels will demonstrate and discuss the use of bulletin boards, posters, flannel boards, motion pictures, slides, tape recorders, public address systems, photographs, newsletters and other types of audio-visual aids.

All areas of District XIV of the California Recreation Society are represented on the program committee. Audrey Welch, supervisor of special activities for Glendale, will chair the first session. John Peebles, director of the Griffith Park Boys' Camp, will chair the second session.

Others on the committee include Marcella Cutter, Burbank recreation department; Marvin Bass, supervisor for the Los Angeles County recreation department; Jim Donohue, director of recreation for San Fernando and president of District XIV; and Frank Gutierrez, representing the Los Angeles State College unit of the CRS.

Emma Van Valkenberg of State's audio-visual division, will supervise the use of various types of equipment.

All presented material and discussion will be summarized by Charles "Chuck" Lawley, director of the Hollywood Boys' Club.

The program represents a departure from the usual institute offered, and the recreation department faculty feel that this type of in-service training is of the utmost importance for recreation professionals to understand.

Dr. Kaplan Lectures On 'Grapes of Wrath'

Students and instructors will hear Dr. Charles Kaplan give a review of John Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath" Tuesday at 2 p.m. in Social Arts 203.

This is the seventh lecture of the Modern American Novel Series and is sponsored by the State College Language Arts Division. Each week one of the division instructors reviews a major American novel for an audience of students and faculty.

Audience discussion of the novel of each week follows the lecture.

Dr. Mitchell Marcus is chairman of the series.

OR HOW TO BE INDEPENDENT AT 46 ON A $350 INVESTMENT

"WHENEVER I hear anyone claiming that big business is bad for small business, I think of my own case.

"Back in 1932 I leased this Union Oil service station in Venice, California, with $350 my wife and I had saved the hard way. Now at 46 I'm financially independent. But I'd never have made it so soon without the Union Oil Company.

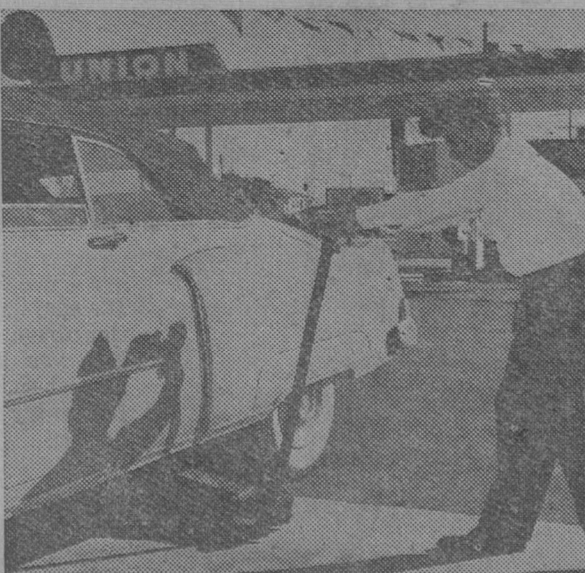

"They taught me how to buy. How to sell. How to service. Even how to hire and train help, and keep my books.

"They'd spend thousands of dollars perfecting new service ideas, then pass 'em on to me for nothing.

"Best of all, people practically took Union's gasoline and motor oil away from me. They were always the finest in the West.

"Well, business was so good I had the station paid for by 1939. Then I started buying real estate around it. Today my net worth's in the six figures. The children are through college and on their own. Marjorie and I are going to travel while we're still young enough to enjoy it. But believe me—I'd never have done half so well if I hadn't been in business with big business!"

Henry McNeil, it seems to us, is the kind of man who would have succeeded with or without our help. But his point is well taken. Big business does help small business.

Union Oil is a typical example. We're the 45th largest manufacturing company in the country, with over $350,000,000 volume in 1954.

But of this $350,000,000, the lion's share—or 75%—is spent with the more than 15,000 small businesses and individuals like Henry McNeil with whom we do business.

LA Trackmen Face Peps; Top Aztecs 76-55

San Diego Win is 4th Straight

By Vic Johnson
Pepperdine engages the red-hot trackmen on Snyder Field tomorrow afternoon as Coach Felix Jumonville's team attempts to win their fifth straight meet.

Last Saturday San Diego fell before the potent Diablos 76-55 as Dan Miller and Demetri Vadetsky led the onslaught.

Miller scored the first of the Diablos' 10 first places as he won the high jump with a leap of 6 ft. 4 1/2 in. to set a new meet and school record in the event. Gunner Johnson took second place with a leap of 6 ft. 2 in.

Miller Great

Miller came back to win the high hurdles in a new school record time of 15.1, and then finished his day's activities with an outstanding win in the low hurdles in a time of 25 seconds flat.

Vadetsky cracked his school record for the second straight week as he threw the javelin 193 ft. 8 1/4 in. Dick Gaskell took second and Don Johnson third in the Diablos sweep of the event.

New meet records were also established in the 880 and the mile as San Diego's Jim Hunt and Fred Gookin, respectively, set new standards. Hunt's time in the 880 of 1:57.9 and Gookin's 4:19.7 gave the Aztecs two of their four firsts in the meet.

Gookin ran away from the field in the two mile and won handily in the time of 9:54 flat.

Stanley Wins

Virgil Stanley, making his first appearance for the Diablos in a track uniform, raced to victory in the 100. Stanley and Darwin Waterman are rapidly rounding into shape in the furlong for the conference meet May 7 at Santa Barbara.

Gary Thompson and Vic Cook shared the blue ribbon in the pole vault as they tied at the 11 ft. 6 in. mark.

"Peg Leg" Brownfield added another first for the Diablos as he won the discus with a heave of 128 ft. 4 in. Johnson won the shot put with a placement of 42 ft. 10 1/2 in.

Other point-getters for the Diablos were Murrell in the 880 and mile, Ralph Riddell in the two mile, Lee Joseph in the 440, and Fernando Goode in the broad jump and 440.

The Diablos relay team turned in their best effort of the season as they were nosed out by the Aztecs. The team of Murrell, Hoover, Goode, and Joseph raced to a time of 3:25.6.

Summary:

100—Stanley (LA), Nygaard (SD), Noon (SD), 10.2.
200—Noon (SD), Nygaard (SD), Waterman (LA), 23.1.

State Golfers Compete in SCIC Tourney

The first big tourney of the collegiate golf season highlights the golf action for the Diablos this week.

Tomorrow's Southern California Intercollegiate Conference holds its annual tourney at the Hacienda golf course with Loyola and USC heavy favorites. The top three men from each team will count in the scoring after shooting 36 holes of golf for medal honors.

Monday, Loyola will host the Devils at the north course of the Los Angeles Country Club. A win by the heavily favored Lions will give them first place for the season in the SCIC.

Tough Losses

Last week two of the most thrilling matches in school history were played as the Black and Gold copped the contests by close margins, both of which could have gone either way for victory.

Santa Barbara edged the Reevesmen as Bob Boaz's 60 foot shot gave him a 6-0 win over his opponent, Olen Baggett, instead of a 4-2 decision. This shot won the match for Santa Barbara 28-26.

Henry Schmidt took medal honors with a 79. The top three Diablos accounted for 20 of the 26 points but the bottom threesome were unable to cope with the Gauchos.

Laster Low

Cal Poly invaded the Lakeside course and also came off victorious with a hard-pressed 29-25 win. The lowest mark of the season for the Devils was scored by Sherm Laster as he garnered a 74. The Mustangs were losing 21-15 going into the team play but they rallied to tip the hosts 14-4 in the team totals.

The summaries:

LA STATE	CAL POLY

Senior AAU Gym Meet Saturday at LACC Gymnasium

Jim Bown, side horse specialist, will lead the LA State entries Saturday when they compete in the Senior AAU Gymnastics meet at the LACC gymnasium. Activities get under way at 7:30 p.m.

Bown, State industrial arts major, tied for second in the side horse in the recent NCAA championships at UCLA. This individual performance on the part of the lone Diablos entry gave LA 8 1/2 points and a 13th ranking nationally.

LASC Sports Car Club Plans Car Show Next Month

Prompted by success of a similar event last year, Los Angeles State College Sports Car Club will again present a Concours d'Elegance (car show) next month.

To be held Friday, May 13, from 10 to 3, the show will be in front of the Administration Building at 855 North Vermont Avenue. Sports car enthusiasts and other interested persons are invited to attend. There is no charge for the event.

Co-chairmen Art Evans and Dick Sherwin report that many interesting cars are already entered. Among them is a Bugatti Tourer, a new fiberglass competition Dyna Panhard, and two Jaguar SS100s.

This year a competition class has been added so fans now have an opportunity to inspect their favorites up close.

For entry blanks and further information write: 1601 South Highland Avenue, Los Angeles 19, or call WE 1-5469.

Diablo Netmen Tackle Ojai In Tournament

The Ojai Tournament which starts today and ends tomorrow is the next venture for the recently successful tennis team.

The netters swept two of their matches over the weekend to make it three out of their last four after losing their first five of the season.

Tuesday the Diablos gained revenge for an earlier defeat at the hands of the Pepperdine Waves as they edged them 5-4.

The Black and Gold took four of the six singles but won on the last doubles match as Jerry Lackey and Pete Segretti topped Bradley and Diponizio of the Waves 6-4, 6-1.

Friday, Loyola manhandled their opponents 8-1. The only Devil win was by Jim White.

Pomona-Claremont fell before the Devils 5-4 also as the hometowners made it two wins in a row for the Coach Wise team.

Jay Burchett won both of the singles he participated in to add to the Diablos score. Tennis, the only sport in which the school has ever won a CCAA title, has improved much to the liking of Coach Wise.

Music Concert Planned by State, City Orchestras

The combined orchestras of State and City Colleges will be heard in concert on Wednesday, May 4, at 8:15 p.m. in the Administration Auditorium.

The 100 piece organization will present a program by composers of the 20th century. Soloists will be Stuart Crane, violinist, and vocalists Rose Marie Welch and Robert Benjamin.

Works by Milhaud, Kabalevsky, Sibelius, Hugh Mullins, Benjamin Britten, and Crawford Gates will be performed. Student conductor Thomas Edward Kessler will conduct the opening work, "Overture and Allegro" by Couperin-Milhaud, followed by two movements from Sibelius' First Symphony and the Kabelevsky Violin Concerto.

Opening the second half of the program will be Dr. Mullins conducting his "Holiday Overture" followed by "Matinee Musicales" by Benjamin Britten.

The program concludes with excerpts from "Promised Valley," a music comedy drama by Crawford Gates. The public is cordially invited, and admission is free.

The Intramural Recreation Activities commission is now making arrangements for their next big event on the Intramural schedule—miniature golf. Competitors will play a round and turn in their score to IRA officers.

The checkers tournament is in progress, with participants playing at their own convenience. Equipment may be checked out at the PE Annex front office.

Team play in softball is also under way with several forfeits blotting opening round play.

Scotty Deeds

Swimmers Compete in State Meet

Los Angeles State College's swimming team, coached by Scotty Deeds, have had ill luck in their four meets since the opening of the season. They contested East Los Angeles JC twice, Valley JC, and Long Beach CC.

This streak of bad luck may be attributed to the size of the LASC swimming team in contrast to others. The squad is limited to five men, consisting of two returning lettermen, Norman Litwak and Eric Levy, and Jack Moscovitz, Bob Watson, and Ernie Williams.

Williams can be classified as one of the outstanding members of the team.

He specializes in the breast stroke and individual medley.

Today the team will leave for the California State Swim Meet which will be held at San Jose College.

San Diego State College brings one of their finest baseball squads in the school's history into town Friday for a double bill with the Diablos.

Last week, the Aztec track and field squad came to the LASC campus and absorbed a rather sound going over on the Snyder Field grounds.

However, LA's nine isn't expected to fare quite as well against the Aztecs, who drubbed Pepperdine 21-1 in the first game of a doubleheader last week. They are not that strong all the time apparently, as they dropped a close 2-1 decision in the second game of that same program.

Coach Hank Ennen has pitching problems that seem to get worse as time goes by. Only big Al Soroky remains as a dependable starting hurler, and even he has been hit hard the last couple of times out.

The Aztecs have two topnotch flingers to throw at the Devils—Dick Walker and Noel Mickelson. Ennen will counter with Soroky and either Horace Consolo or Phil Pote, the latter two both regulars in the lineup but not as flingers.

BACK NEXT YEAR

Schmidt, Gosnell Take Turns In Top Position

Coach Warren Reeves is mighty happy that his number one and two men for this season will be back again next year to bolster his golf team.

Tom Gosnell and Henry Schmidt have led the Diablos in every match this year, Gosnell lettered last year as number two man behind Tom Goodal, since graduated, while Schmidt is currently in his first year at State.

Schmidt started out as number five man in the opening contest with Santa Monica City College and has steadily improved until he has played number one spot in five of the Black and Gold's first 14 matches.

Switch Off

Gosnell, rated number one, and Schmidt have been shuffled from first to second and back as the occasion calls for, with the best score from the match before determining the number one player for each match.

So far this season top medal honors have gone to this pair with Schmidt recording the low Diablo mark for the year with a 76, Gosnell a 77. Gosnell is the only player in Devil history to record an eagle in match play as he chipped in a two under par shot on the 15th hole in a contest with San Diego earlier this season.

In team play, the top two have teamed up together seven times against the top players from the opposing teams and have won three, lost three and tied the other.

Varied Opinions

Both stars have varied backgrounds and both have different ideas of the greatest player in their sport. Schmidt, born in Milwaukee, rates Ben Hogan the greatest of the present golfers. Gosnell, a St. Paul native, is a Gene Littler fan.

At Cathedral High School, Gosnell lettered in baseball and basketball since the school did not have golf.

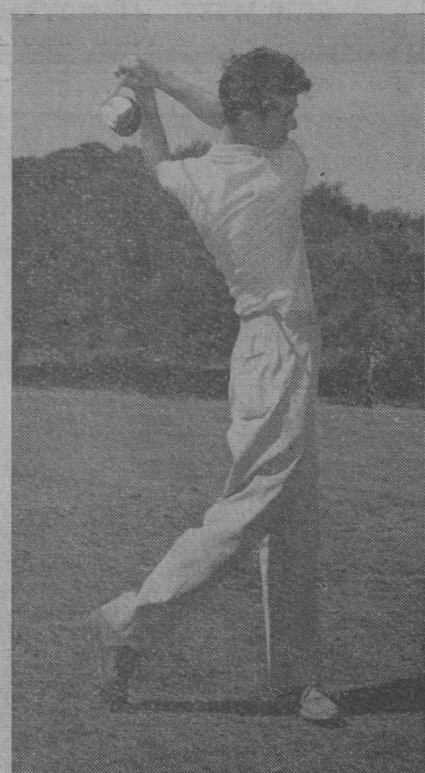

LASC's golf team was Gosnell's first taste of varsity competition as he competed for two seasons and then transferred to Los Angeles State

Star at LACC

Schmidt, after attending Van Nuys High, went to Valley JC where he was number one player under the tutorage of Coach Al Hunt. He then transferred to the Diablo campus where in one season he has made top honors for the Black and Gold.

Off to a fast start this season, the Diablos were hit hard when Clay Vermuelen and Lee Shackford, number three and four men, were lost to Reeves' linksters, thereby crippling what appeared to be the greatest team in Diablo history.

But next season, Schmidt and Gosnell will be back to form the nucleus of another good team.

ACE GOLFER—Tom Gosnell, captain-elect of the Diablo linksters, blasts a long drive on his way to another low score.

TOP SWINGER—Hank Schmidt displays the fine form which has moved him up to number one spot on Warren Reeves golf team.

Soroky, Pote To Hurl for State Nine

Coach Hank Ennen's baseballers enter the final phase of their 1955 CCAA play tomorrow, hosting the Aztecs of San Diego State in a 1 p.m. doubleheader at Crystal Springs.

Charlie Smith brings his Border City club to town with an impressive 18-3 rating and an outside chance to overtake the high-flying Fresno State

CCAA Standings

San Diego	2	1	.667
Cal Poly	3	3	.500
Santa Barbara	2	4	.333
LA STATE	2	5	.286

Bulldogs if all goes well against the Diablos. The veteran San Diego mentor will send Noel Mickelson and either Dick Walker or Walt Fleak to the hill to oppose Al Soroky and Horace Consolo or Phil Pote.

Defeated Fresno

The Aztecs, the only college crew boasting a decision over Fresno this year, will field an all-portside hitting lineup against the righthanded Devil hurlers. Bill Lachemann, late of City College, is the catcher and one of the leadings hitters along with outfielder Mike Brown and Second Baseman Dick North.

Dave Salazar and Jerry Kurilich are the only local regulars over the coveted .300 mark, but Fred Oken and Len Rosen are close and will help as the Ennenmen go after their third league triumph and second in a row.

The State College season record dropped to 10-12 as the Pepperdine Waves rolled in for a 13-1 decision last Friday. The visitors combed the pitching of Soroky, Pote, and Consolo for 15 hits and Wave Chuck Phillips scattered eight safeties effectively.

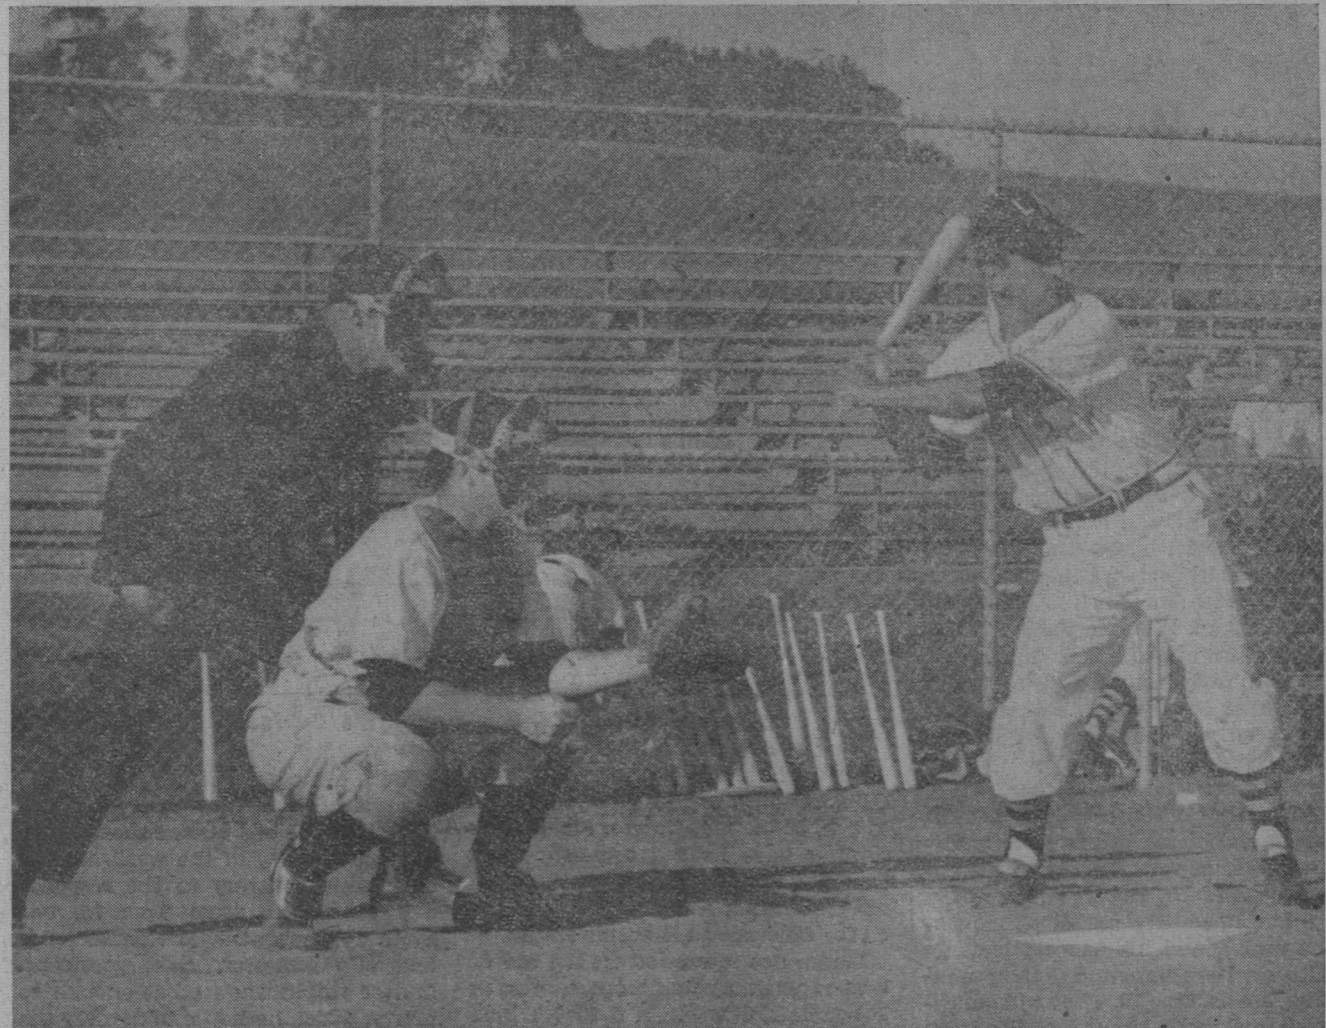

The lone Devil tally came in the third on a double by Dave Rosenfeld, a fielder's choice by Soroky, a single by Consolo, and a sacrifice fly by Pote.

Rosenfeld Hits

The bingles for the home club were split up as follows: a double and single for Rosenfeld, a long triple by Pote, singles by Consolo, Morgan, Salazar, and pinch singles by Tod Tennyson and Jim Cambianca.

In a game earlier last week, the Devils made it two in a row over Whittier College with a 6-1 win with Consolo chalking up his third straight pitching decision. Two hits each by Rosen, Tom Morgan and Rosenfeld, and one apiece for Oken, Jim Spudich and Salazar, supported the excellent pitching performance in a well-played contest.

The San Diego Naval Training Center took an abbreviated 13-4 game

READY TO HIT—Diablo shortstop-pitcher Horace "Horse" Consolo gets set to take a cut in a recent State game against Cal Poly. Consolo is expected to take his turn on the hill tomorrow when the Devils meet San Diego in a doubleheader at Crystal Springs. Mustang catcher Art Dyer is ready to receive the pitch, while playground umpire Tillie Schaeffer calls the action.

Social Groups Serve During Help Weekend

Anticipate Formal Initiation Ceremonies When Pledges Become Active Members

Actives and pledges of the social sororities and fraternities proved their concern for the community in Help Weekend service projects.

After a tour of Chinatown and a slumber party at Jan Littlefield's home, the actives and pledges of Alpha Theta Pi made scrapbooks for the children's ward of the County Hospital. Another project of service to the hospital will continue throughout the semester.

Girls from Delta Beta Sigma did general housecleaning and garden work for the Hathaway Home for emotionally insecure children in Highland Park on Saturday.

Pledges of Tau Sigma Nu challenged actives to a bowling contest Friday night. The pledges were the victors. A slumber party at the home of Jan Angelo was followed by volunteer work in the Red Cross Blood Center.

Fraternity Weekend

Actives of Delta Kappa Phi fraternity treated their pledges to an evening of entertainment at the Long Beach Pike.

Camp Mikivani had its mess hall repainted by Kappa Phi Sigma. The camp, located at Big Pines, is operated by the McKinley Home for Boys.

Pledges of Phi Delta turned out to be "good housekeepers" when they carried on the spring housecleaning at the fraternity house.

Rho Delta Chi will hold its Help Weekend and formal initiation at the home of Larry Domine in El Monte this weekend.

Formal Initiations

All the social groups will hold their formal ceremonies Saturday and Sunday. At this time, the new members will receive their sorority boules and fraternity pins.

WAC Officer Informs Women On Commissions

Major Lois W. Ochoa, representing Fort MacArthur at San Pedro, will be on campus next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday to give information relative to direct commissions in the Women's Army Corps.

Women students desiring this information may see Major Ochoa in the Bungalow G area any time from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Various Programs

One program is applicable to women who have completed four years of college. Another is for those who have completed their junior year and who enlist as corporal, and with satisfactory completion of six weeks summer training are recommended for direct commission as second lieutenant when their senior year of college is completed. The third program is for those with two years of college and qualifying civilian experience in a career field.

Positions Available

Some of the positions available for women officers in a mandatory two year period of active duty are public relations, signal, operations and training, logistics and supply, education specialists, classification and assignment, adjutant, budget and fiscal, food services supervisor, legal officer, military job analyst, personnel officer and troop officer.

Information in detail on the entire program, including pay, quarters, and subsistence, will be given by Major Ochoa.

Plans Made for State Greek Ball

As a climax to Greek Week, the LASC Greek Ball will be held May 7.

The event, which is sponsored by all of the Greek letter organizations on campus, is open to all State College students and is being planned by a committee of members of the Panhellenic Council and Inter-Fraternity Council.

The dance, which will feature the Seven Tunesmiths, will be held in the Rose Room of the Chase Hotel in Santa Monica. Tickets will be purchased for $2.50 at Bungalow G and at the door.

According to Larry Domine, president of IFC, "The dance should be a great success. Because the activities leading up to it will be a week in advance, we expect student interest to be greatly heightened."

SANDY SAYS . . .

By Sandra Gordon

Spring fever and romance have hit the LASC campus like a bombshell and everyone seems to be affected by either one or the other.

Maxine Shoemaker became Mrs. James Heath on April 2. The pair honeymooned in Apple Valley.

Katie Archibald, Tau Sigma Nu, and Bill Rowland were also married April 2 in Pasadena. That seems to have been a popular day for Diablos to march down the aisle.

Meant for Each Other

Dixie Lee Hilton, Alpha Theta Pi, passed chocolates to her sorority sisters to announce her surprise engagement to Dr. Robert A. Schmit.

Allan Boodnick, secondary education major, and his fiancée, Jeanette Rutberg, have announced their wedding date as June 18. They will honeymoon up north around Yellowstone National Park and San Francisco.

Carlene Gerhardy received her engagement ring from Gil Leal. They plan to wed in December.

Romantic Juniors

Romance has blossomed in the junior class with the announcement of President Jack Moscovitz and Vice President Freda Bernstein that they are now going steady.

Baby Makes Three

Congratulations to Delta Frank Forthun and his wife Joan upon the arrival Saturday of Cindy Jo. The baby is now the adopted niece of the Delta Kappa Phi fraternity.

Bob Moore, A Phi O, is just getting used to his new role of uncle.

Here is a tidbit I thought I might pass along: "Roses are red, violets are blue; I'm going to the Spring Sing, are you? The time is now, so don't delay, sign up for the big Spring Sing, That's Friday eve, April 29 is the day, The PE Annex where voices will ring." If this poetic (?) work composed by B.L. and A.L. and F.G. doesn't get you interested in the Spring Sing, I don't know what will!

Faculty Wives Feature Styles

A style show under the direction of Mrs. Thelma Graves, home economics department, will be the main program of the meeting of the Faculty Wives Association today.

This will be completing a series of programs on the theme of "Know Your College," which has been carried out by the Faculty Wives during the past semester.

"All the wives have certainly benefited from the programs," said Mrs. Simpson, president. "They have broadened their outlook of the school and can better understand their husbands."

This meeting also includes election of officers and a white elephant sale.

Mrs. Leslie Nelson and Mrs. Floyd Eastwood are in charge of the program. Mrs. Wesley Griesel is chairman of refreshments. The newcomers are serving.

The meeting will be held in the University Religious Conference Building from 1 to 3 p.m.

Murrow Film at Scholarship Meet

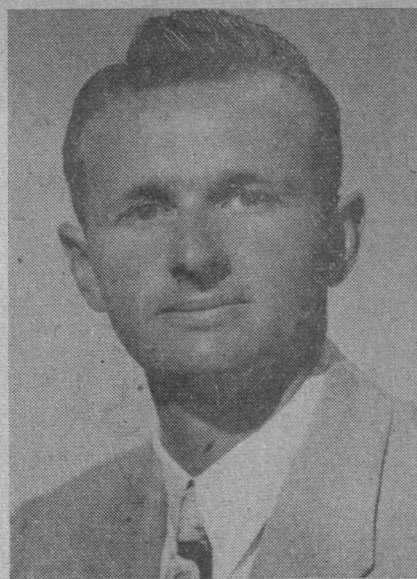

Members of the Scholarship Society will hold a meeting Tuesday which will be highlighted by a film on Edward R. Murrow and James Oppenheimer, atomic scientist. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. at 2331 Observatory Avenue.

Helen Ball, president, said, "Interest in this film developed from watching a series of talks on Murrow's television show."

The film will be followed by a discussion and refreshments. This is a social meeting to which the husbands and wives of the members have been invited.

TWO PRESIDENTS—James Brownfield and Eleanor Schwartz manage to find time in their busy schedules to preside over campus meetings. Brownfield is president of Phi Epsilon Kappa. Miss Schwartz heads the Pan Hellenic Council.

PERSONALITIES OF WEEK

By Elodie Bowers

Boat racing, anyone?

If you're interested, James Brownfield, State College physical education major, is the man to see. He and his brother have formed the Brownfield Racing Team, which travels throughout California, Arizona, and is headed for Colorado in the near future.

Those not interested in the art of boat racing may find more interest in Brownfield himself, a 6 foot 1 inch track and football man. His light eyes and hair give a congenial contrast to his sunned complexion.

Native Teaches Judo

Brownfield was born in Long Beach, attended Hollywood High School and served as a military police and judo instructor in the army for two years.

With a schedule as long as Brownfield's, it's amazing that he finds time for his many "out-of-doors" hobbies.

He holds active membership in CAHPERS, the Letterman's Club, Blue Key, and is president of Phi Epsilon Kappa, men's national honorary fraternity for physical education majors.

Job Rusher

After classes and meetings he has two jobs to rush to. He is director of the Grant School playground and the Crystal Springs playground in Griffith Park.

"It would be nice," he thought out loud, "if when State College gets her new campus, an hour could be allotted when no classes are in session and all students are able to attend some joint function. It is done very successfully at El Camino and many of our other junior colleges," he confirmed.

With a general and life science minor and his physical education background, he hopes to secure a coaching position with the board of education.

Most people know of the nameless New Year's Eve baby, but not all know Eleanor Schwartz, who began to bat her lashes, let out a bawl and was welcomed in 1934.

This little charmer grew up to become an elementary education major

Cromwell Speaks at Faculty Lunch Today

The faculty men will attend a at noon today in Dining Room ABC.

Sponsored by the Faculty Men's Club, the event is open to faculty men of State and City Colleges, according to Dr. Tully E. Warren, president.

Dean Cromwell, former track and field coach at USC from 1909 to 1948, coach of the US Olympic track team in 1948, and author of books on track, will address the group.

Cromwell has coached an athlete in the Olympics every year since 1912.

A member of the coaching staff of the US Olympic team since 1928, he has also conducted track and field clinics here and abroad.

Finalists for Delta Kappa Phi Sweetheart Contest Selected

"I no longer envy the public-spirited people who judge these beauty contests," Frank Penunuri, president of Delta Kappa Phi, stated frankly. "This problem of selecting four finalists from the list of deserving candidates is far from easy."

The result, Frank announced, was to raise the number of finalists from four to nine.

"It was almost impossible to eliminate any of these final nine which our screening committee ended with."

The "Sweetheart of Delta Kappa Phi" will be chosen this weekend from the following candidates:

Jan Adams, a member of AWS; Jan Angelo, a member of Tau Sigma Nu social sorority; Yvon Caruthers, vice president of Alpha Phi Gamma journalism honorary organization and student publicity representative; Bobbi Goodman, aspirant to State drama program; Sandra Gordon, commissioner of elections, editor of CT activities page, and secretary of Alpha Phi Gamma; Dixie Hilton, pledge-mistress of Alpha Theta Pi social sorority; Ruth Hroschkoski, activities commissioner; Judy Ward, member of Phrateres, Alpha Gamma Pi and secretary of CSTA; and Marian Wright, former AS councilman, president of Phrateres and activities editor of the Pitchfork.

"The winner will be proudly announced in next week's edition of the College Times," Aime Parenteau, Sweetheart Committee chairman, said.

The annual Delta Kappa Phi alumni banquet will be highlighted by the presentation of the sweetheart to the group. This affair will take place at Larry Potter's on Ventura Blvd, Friday, April 29.

"The girl chosen for the honor will receive a beautiful trophy, a bouquet of roses and gifts as well as being the guest of honor at the banquet which will include dinner, dancing and entertainment provided by the Ventura Blvd. supper club," Parenteau added.

Science Club Features Film at Next Meeting

Featuring a film at their next meeting April 28, the newly formed Science Club will gather in Bungalow Ma at 8 p.m.

Students interested in mathematics, physical and biological sciences are eligible to attend this business meeting.

This is the first meeting of the body under the recently adopted constitution.

Further plans for the semester are being made and will feature speakers, field trips, and discussion groups.
